Resnick Predicts Win As Demos Endorse Six

Four contests developed Saturday night at the Ulster County Democratic unofficial convention at which time recommendations were made for party candidates for the coming November election.

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville was designated by acclamation and received a two minute ovation after he had been nominated by Supervisor George Barthel, Wawarsing supervisor. Among those seconding the nomination were Dr. Gerald Gorman, present city chairman; Supervisor Roger Maibie of Esopus; Peter Grad of Woodstock and others.

In accepting the designation Congressman Resnick said when he was nominated two years ago he had predicted he would have a 40,000-vote victory.

At that time he said he had told the convention that he was going to be "the best kind of Democrat, a winning Democrat" and he said he was again before the convention seeking the nomination and would again be a winner in November.

Following is the acceptance speech given by Congressman Resnick:

"I have worked hard for things that I believe in and the things that the Democratic Party in the 28th Congressional district believes in.

"It's nice to know that my efforts are being appreciated. Two years ago I stood here before you an unknown, the best kind of a Democrat, a winning Democrat.

Predicts 40,000-Vote Victory

"This year, again, I'm going to win with more of my fellow Democrats. I want to go to Washington and I also want to go to Albany to see that we have a Democratic state Senator, assemblyman and congressman as well.

"Too long the Democratic party in this area has played paty to the Republican party. We are going to go out and run on the issues, not on personalities. There are two gentlemen Republicans who want the nomination. So far, if you have been following the primary, the main issue seems to be who is more qualified to be the Republican nominee.

"On the one hand we have Hamilton Fish, whose claim to fame is that his family goes back 165 years. Now, if he gets the nomination we will have a 165-year-old congressman. On the other hand we have Sam Aldrich, the governor's cousin and his claim to fame is that at Harvard he was the coxswain while Ham Fish was only the No. 6 oar. They refuse to face the issues. They don't even know what the issues are.

"I told Mr. Wharton and I'm going to tell those people what issues are.

"Is this country going to be run for the bunkers or for the people, the workers, the housewives, the farmers, the small business man? We have followed the Democratic party from FDR to Mr. Truman and our great president John F. Kennedy and we've seen what the results are. This is not theory, this is fact. Our children are being educated better today than we were. Our grandparents are living in dignity with medical care which their parents never had.

"We have better roads, better jobs, better food, all things to make life worthwhile. This is the issue: shall we continue toward the Great Society or let's go back to the Republican theory of doing nothing. Ask any Republican what he thinks about Social Security. Remind him that in 1935 when FDR put the

Is Closest Raid Yet; Second Hit

2 Key Spans Left In Ruins by Craft

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets smashed two Soviet-built missile sites on the outskirts of Hanoi in the closest raid yet to the North Vietnamese capital and left two key bridges in ruins, U.S. spokesmen reported today.

Another group of Navy fighter-bombers set off a huge explosion at a suspected missile site 27 miles south of the coastal city of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, silenced seven nearby anti-aircraft batteries and sank a junk.

Put Out of Commission
Led by target-marking F100 Super Sabre jets in clear afternoon skies, a pack of Air Force supersonic F105 Thunderchiefs began the raid around Hanoi Sunday by hurling 750-pound bombs at a bridge 33 miles south of the capital on the road to the chief port of Haiphong.

The span was put out of commission, a spokesman said.

The jets then moved closer to the capital blasting a missile site 15 miles south of the city and another 17 miles southwest with rockets and 20mm cannon fire. A huge explosion rocked one of the missile complexes, a pilot reported. The airman spotted rockets on the launching pads just before they roared in but only one missile was set up. It missed.

Thunderchiefs Blast Bridge
Three other flights of Thunderchiefs struck the main railroad bridge between Hanoi and Vinh with 750-pound bombs, leaving it completely "singed, twisted and definitely unserviceable," a spokesman said. The bridge was hit last November but had been rebuilt, he said.

The loss of five more U.S. planes in the past three days raised the number brought down in the 15-month-old air war against North Viet Nam to 210. But only two fliers were reported lost over the weekend.

An A1H Navy Skyraider was lost to conventional ground fire this afternoon three miles south of Tiger Island and just north of the 17th Parallel frontier. The

Barry Says LBJ Plays Politics With Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson was playing politics with the Vietnamese war by trying to keep it at a "low level" to save Democratic seats in next fall's congressional elections.

"We're not exerting our full air power against the enemy, and I don't think that is playing fair with the men who are being drafted and the men who are being sent over to Viet Nam," Johnson's 1964 GOP presidential opponent said in a copyright interview in U. S. News and World Report.

Doubts Fireworks

Goldwater's volley came as Congress returns full force to face the Vietnamese political storm that broke during the Easter recess and as Secretary of State Dean Rusk faces the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The big question: What now? In going before the Foreign Relations group, Rusk once again was facing the questions of a committee that has been a hotbed of congressional criticism.

Cause Sought After Spa's Fifth Blaze

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Fire officials sought today the cause of a fire at the Arcade Building Sunday that caused damage estimated at up to $200,000 in this city's fifth major fire in seven months.

Four residents of apartments on the top floor escaped the smoky fire in the four-story brick building on downtown Broadway. The flames were fought by firemen from six communities.

One Woman Hurt

The only reported injury was to a woman spectator who tripped over a fire hose and suffered a cut forehead. She was treated and discharged at Saratoga Hospital.

John T. Roohan, commissioner of public safety, estimated the damage and said the fire apparently started on an upper floor at the rear of the building. The first two floors contain stores and offices.

Roohan added that a fire wall separated two parts of the building. Flames heavily damaged the rear of the structure, where two floors collapsed. He said smoke and water damage were extensive in the front, where the building is three stories high.

Half Block From Other

The Arcade, which burned and was rebuilt in the early 1900s, is half a block from the Colonial Tavern, which was destroyed in the resort city's last major fire, March 21.

The Saratoga Quevic Vichy Springs Co. was destroyed on March 2 in a fire that was punctuated by explosions and caused damage estimated at nearly $500,000.

On Nov. 14, historic Convention Hall, a vacant hotel and an apartment house were leveled by wind-whipped flames.

On Sept. 19, a fire at Saratoga Hospital forced the evacuation of 35 patients. A fireman was killed when an aerial ladder collapsed and threw him to the ground.

Travia, Brydges Concede Point To Ease Strictest Part of Shift in State Divorce Bill

Lindsay Renews
Plea to Governor
For Word on Tax

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has again appealed for a "clear statement of support" for his $520 million tax program from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Back From Venezuela

Silence on the proposal the mayor suggested Sunday is "compromising" and works to "create more difficulties in the legislative process."

Warns of Lopping

Lindsay said that if his tax program does not win approval by the Legislature and City Council, his current "job freeze" will have to be extended indefinitely and "We'll have to go beyond that and start just plain lopping off city workers."

The governor, returning from a Venezuelan vacation late Sunday told newsmen at Kennedy airport he had not yet seen the Lindsay budget.

"I have to wait until I get a chance to catch up," he said. "Therefore, no comment." A spokesman said Rockefeller might hold a news conference in Albany today.

Lindsay made his appeal in a taped interview on WOR-TV. He acknowledged there was resistance to his tax program "in many areas, including representatives of the commuter belt around New York City."

Support by the governor would make the program "move along faster in the leg-

Travia and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges both told The Associated Press they were prepared to concede that the separation provision in their bill was too stringent.

Would Reduce Period

Under terms of the much-criticized provision, a couple would go to court and obtain a legal decree of separation, then live apart for five years, if they wished to obtain a divorce on the ground of voluntary separation.

Both Brydges and Travia said they probably would reduce the period to two or three years and, instead of requiring a legal decree, provide that a couple could qualify by signing a separation agreement drawn up by a lawyer.

Changes along that line could overcome major opposition to the bill and improve the prospects of enacting a broad liberalization of the divorce law before the month is out.

A huge backlog of legislation — and two stalemate disputes on key issues — awaited the lawmakers as they prepared to ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Sixteen highway fatalities, six of them in multiple-death accidents, made up the New York State weekend accidental death tally.

These deaths were recorded during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

Bridgeport — Mrs. Eileen Deyo, 29, of Bridgeport, passenger in car that struck a tree beside Route 298.

Richmondville — Arthur L. Ericson, 18, of Jefferson, in the head-on crash of his car and a tractor-trailer.

Harrison — Miss Cecilia Casasola, about 30, of New York

City, in an auto that crashed on the New England Thruway.

Lockport — Larry Voelker, 13, struck by car while riding his bicycle, two miles from Lockport.

Parish — Lyle K. Ottoway, 18, of Central Square, passenger on a motorcycle that went off Route 63, hurling him against a tree.

Rochester — Miss Gertrude Smith and Miss Edith Pillow, both of Rochester and about 60, in a two-car collision.

Choice Eases Threat of Iraq Feuding

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Prospects for a power struggle in Iraq appeared to subside today after Maj. Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, the army chief of staff, was named to succeed his dead brother as president.

Midnight Selection

Rahman Aref was chosen by the Cabinet and Defense Council at a midnight meeting Saturday eight hours after the state funeral for President Abdel Salam Aref, killed in a helicopter crash last Wednesday.

The vote for Rahman Aref was reported to have been unanimous which would contribute much toward stability of the new regime. The Defense Council includes Iraq's top military leaders.

Rahman Aref's selection was followed by an easing of the curfew imposed after his brother's death. Baghdad radio began reading telegrams of support from military posts throughout Iraq.

Aref's death had raised the prospect of bitter political infighting and perhaps worse over who would succeed him. Since he was named president by the military in 1963, Aref had maintained a precarious dominance over feuding political and religious factions.

Routine Formality

The government of Premier Abdel Rehma Bazzaz offered to resign Sunday, but this is a routine formality. The Cabinet is expected to stay in office, but appointments must be made to replace two ministers killed with the president.

Rahman Aref was named by his brother to run the army in February 1963 after a revolution overthrew dictator Abdel Kerim Kassem. He confined himself to mostly military matters, exhibited no particular political leanings and was not considered a member of the inner circle of officers who under the leadership of Kassem and Salam Aref overthrew the pro-Western monarchy in 1958.

Charge 3 Others With Drugs

Leary Facing Court Date After Raid Sunday in Dutchess

MILLBROOK, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary, dismissed by Harvard University after experimenting with hallucinatory drugs — and convicted last month in Texas for transporting marijuana — faces a new narcotics charge.

A raiding party entered Leary's rented estate Sunday and seized what Dutchess County Dist. Atty. John R. Heilman called "a suspected quantity of marijuana."

Four Plead Innocent

Charged along with Leary with possession of narcotics were Stewart F. Swain, 46, Blue Jay, Calif., his wife, Nancy, 36, and Barry Kaplan, 20, New York City.

The four pleaded innocent before County Judge Raymond Baratta in Poughkeepsie and were released on bail pending a hearing Tuesday.

Leary, 46, free on bail pending appeal of a 30-year prison term stemming from a federal narcotics conviction at Laredo, Tex., said he was "outraged at this invasion of my home."

Leary said he was unaware of the presence of narcotics in the sprawling 64-room mansion he leased in 1963 in the name of the Castalia Foundation with himself as director.

In Upstairs Bedroom

The marijuana was said to have been found in an upstairs bedroom. Authorities said Leary was arrested since he was in possession of the house.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan, who led the raiding party with Heilman, said: "They (about 30 men and women) were lying around on mattresses on the floor, and some were playing music with guitars."

Leary, who describes himself as a Hindu, said the foundation was devoted to "scientific and religious research." He said the persons at the 85-year-old estate over the weekend were there to help plan a summer camp that the foundation hopes to conduct on consciousness — expanding techniques.

Two Released by Harvard

Leary, an experimenter with such drugs as LSD, and a collaborator, Richard Alpert, were released by Harvard three years ago for allegedly using students in drug experiments.

Poet Allen Ginsberg, a member of the Timothy Leary defense fund, set up after the Texas conviction, in New York City criticized what he termed

Many Laud Yerry's Labor Record at Carpenter Fete

Upwards of 500 persons joined in tribute to George E. Yerry Jr. during his testimonial dinner Sunday night at the Nevele Country Club in Ellenville.

Yerry, newly-appointed commissioner of the New York State Workmen's Compensation Board, was accorded accolades by state officials, politicians and various members of trades unions.

The guest of honor, who is regarded as one of the most well-known labor leaders of the state, was named earlier this year by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to the WCB post. He is one of 13 members of the board.

Sunday night's testimonial was given to Yerry, the current president, by his fellow workers of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters.

Hyman Zamansky, acting president of the Council, extended the official welcome to the large assemblage and noted the efforts of Mrs. Emily Osterhoudt, Mrs. Bronson and Mrs. Joyce Laurie among others in making the arrangements.

Nicolas S. Valentine Jr., deputy industrial commissioner for Labor Affairs, New York State Department of Labor, who was toastmaster, read several congratulatory telegrams including one from Gov. Rockefeller. Other messages were received from James Gaynor, commissioner of housing for the state; Lt. Col. James Laurie, son-in-law of Yerry; Paul Richards, representing the contractor's association of Albany; Neal Brandow, Republican chairman of Greene County and M. A. Hutchinson, general president of the Carpenters Union.

Brief addresses were given by Sen. Lloyd A. Newcombe of Catskill (R-43rd), who moved

Two Julies, Steiger Loom As Favorites for Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ending two months' suspense for nominees and fans, the movie academy presents its 38th annual Oscar awards tonight for —An auditorium audience of 2,800 including Lynda Bird Johnson and her beau, actor George Hamilton.

Coast-to-coast television viewers seeing it for the first time in color.

The stage setting at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium is described as one of the most lavish yet. It features two dozen fountains and pools.

An aide says the academy has taken out $5 million insurance, at a cost of $6,000, against the possibility of the temporary plumbing springing a slippery leak.

"Suppose Bob Hope or Cyd Charisse slipped, fell and couldn't work," he shuddered.

Miss Charisse will dance. Quipmaster Hope will preside over the ceremonies for the 12th time.

The two-hour show goes on at 10 p.m. EST over the ABC radio and television networks.

Hamilton will escort the President's 22-year-old daughter to the auditorium and with Patty Duke will present the award for achievement in sound. After the ceremonies he will take Miss Johnson to the Oscar Ball for 1-500 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Occupying an adjoining table will be two Secret Service men.

Since the nominations were announced Feb. 21, the academy's voting membership of some 2,800 has picked winners by secret ballot. Results are an accounting firm's closely guarded secret.

The favorites? A veteran, close observer of the Hollywood

60th Anniversary Of Frisco Quake Recalled Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — That morning 60 years ago today, in a split second, the notorious San Andreas Fault gave way to immeasurable pressures and stresses.

The earth heaved, rolled and buckled, and San Francisco was devastated.

The great earthquake came on April 18, 1906, at 5 a.m. An earth wound opened along the coastal strip for more than 200 miles. Cities were damaged from Eureka south to Salinas.

Weeks later San Francisco's official casualty list stood at 452 dead from the earthquake and resulting fires. Many believe the eventual death toll was between 600 and 700. About 1,500 were injured.

Child Health Clinic

A Child Health Conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Hasbrouck Hall, Modena on Tuesday, April 26 at 1 to 3 p.m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states.

—in tiny tablets called Primatec. These Primatec Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret—Primatec combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms. Get Primatec at any drugstore.

Property loss was $350 million. More than 60,000 buildings — half of them homes — were shattered or burned. Ruins covered almost 3,000 acres — about 500 blocks. Some 265,000 of the 360,000 residents were homeless.

That great shock lasted about 30 seconds. There were many other jolts during the day.

Streets split open. Gas mains snapped. Water mains twisted and broke. The winds came up. For three days and three nights, fires raged.

Rocks Shift

The San Andreas Fault — a fracture along masses of underlying rock — is well-known to scientists. In one awesome jolt, one vertical underground wall of rock slipped one way, and the other moved in the opposite direction. This took place from 10 to 25 miles underground.

Seismologists have learned that the coastal, or western side of the San Andreas fault moves about two inches northward every year relative to the continental, or eastern, side. There is almost constant rubbing and grinding between the rock walls of the massive fracture. The San Andreas Fault does not rest easy for very long.

So, some day, the fault will shudder again. The earthquake may be so mild as to be barely noticed — just enough to ease the tremendous stress underground. There have been many of these in past years. Or it could be catastrophic. But few people appear to worry. Earthquakes just can't be predicted or anticipated.

Young Soldier of 22 Already Has Hair Streaked With Gray

EDITOR'S NOTE — Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., is only 22, but he already is serving his second tour in South Viet Nam. His outfit is awaiting word to go into its first major clash with "Charley," the Communist Viet Cong. The following article recounts the events of the first of five days that may mean life or death for young Richie.

By JOHN NANCE

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP) — The young soldier stretched flat on top of his bunker, listening and peering out into the darkness.

It was just after midnight Monday. The bright moon silvered the rows of barbed wire stretched in front of him. Beyond the wire was torn and cratered earth and then the jagged silhouette of a jungled rubber plantation.

Americans on the Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 20 per cent of the American population lived at a different address in March 1965 than it did a year earlier, the census bureau reported today.

The bulk of the movers — 13 per cent — changed addresses within the same county. Another 3.5 per cent moved between counties within the same state, the bureau said. Only 3.3 per cent moved between states.

The survey was the 18th in an annual series designed to keep check on movement in the population. Since 1948, the proportion has ranged from 18.6 per cent to 21 per cent.

It was in that plantation, a couple hundred yards away, where infantrymen of the 25th Division had fought their first bloody battles with the Viet Cong. The GI's now called that ground "Hell's Half Acre."

Heart of Cong Territory

It was near Cu Chi, a town 20 miles northwest of Saigon and in the heart of territory controlled for decades by the Communists. They had built a vast network of tunnels, hidden trenches, and fortified positions. But the Americans had gouged out yard by yard the land needed for the base camp for the division's 2nd Brigade which had arrived in January. And they were determined to push the enemy from his stronghold.

The young soldier, Pfc. Clark Richie, 22, of Jay, Okla., had his pistol beside him; the muzzle of his heavy black machine gun jutted from a slit between timbers and sandbags in the face of the bunker.

His home in this strange place so far from Oklahoma was the bunker—eight feet long, five feet wide and five feet deep. It was dug from rockhard soil and covered with timbers and sandbags.

Trained at Schofield

There were four in the bunker: Richie, Spec, 4 Ronald Hays, 18, of East St. Louis, Ill.; Spec, 4 Jim Buddano, 24, of the Bronx, N.Y.; and Pfc. Jose Martinez, 18, also of the Bronx. They belonged to the Weapons Squad, 3rd Battalion, B Company, 2nd Brigade, 25th Division. They had been in Viet Nam since Jan. 27 after sailing from Hawaii where they trained at Schofield Barracks for this kind of war.

Richie and Martinez had been in Viet Nam before, each for six months as machine gunners on helicopters.

As Richie lay silent and watchful in the cooling night he was reminded of his days as "Shotgun," as helicopter gunners are called. His right leg stiffened a bit. It had more than 70 small fragments in it from the ankle up the inner thigh. It was almost a year ago to the day that Viet Cong bullets spurted into his helicopter. He had been hospitalized nearly a month.

It was nearly 1:30 a.m. and Richie woke up Buddano to take

Almost Uneventful

Except for the bugs, and blasts of U.S. artillery, the night was uneventful.

At 5:30 a. m. a sergeant checked to see every one was awake in case of a dawn sniper or mortar attack. At 6:30 the night patrol returned from the position of Richie's Bunker 14. The sun was streaking the sky yellow and purple.

Richie filled his steel helmet with water and began to shave. Talk concentrated on rumors passed at breakfast that the outfit would go on its first major operation against "Charley."

Richie was quiet. He finished off his shave with slaps of lotion and combed his short-cropped hair. Fresh and clean, he looked like a college boy getting ready for a date. But his greenish eyes had a tenseness about them. His rusty red hair was streaked with gray.

The gray had come in the last year, he said. "There wasn't a single gray hair when I came to Viet Nam in February a year ago."

Didn't Volunteer

His widowed mother, 68, hadn't wanted him to go back. "And I didn't volunteer," he said. But here he was. His mother simply told him: "Do the best job you can. Then come home, safe and well."

The day grew hotter. By afternoon it was 95.

Richie collected his monthly pay — $165 for a Pfc. and $65 for combat — and arranged for two money orders to be sent home.

Richie and the three other men from the bunker sat under their bamboo trees and sweated. They talked about how many days they had left in Viet Nam and when they would go home. They talked about dying and the upcoming operation.

Richie said he didn't like to think about dying, "but somehow you can't help it. You don't think about being brave, but you hope like hell that you act like a man, that you don't disgrace yourself, that you won't be ashamed."

Arty Picks Up Tempo

Richie ate dinner at the mess tent — fried chicken, boiled potatoes, peas, biscuits and iced tea. Afterward was mail call. Richie got a letter from his mother. He read it twice.

About 8 p.m. the artillery blasts picked up tempo, marking the departure of the company's night patrol. Shells were fired ahead of the squad of men moving in darkness toward Viet Cong-held territory.

The blasts also marked the start of the first night watch. The cycle had been made. The day had passed like many others, the barbed wire shone again in the moonlight. But tonight there was a new element: Richie and the others knew an operation was near and it began to fill their thoughts.

Next: A break in routine.

Generals Eager for More War Action

Key Buddhist Chiefs and Military Leaders Vie for Political Powers

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Nam's top Buddhist leaders and the ruling military high command have two things in common. They are Vietnamese, and their average age is 38.

Otherwise, in their background education and viewpoint of the world they are completely different.

This largely explains why in the three years since the Buddhists and the military united to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem, the political history of Viet Nam has been a series of power struggles between the two groups.

No Common Enemy Now

Such a struggle is taking place now. If the Buddhists win this struggle and dominate the proposed National Assembly, then the history of Viet Nam in the next year may be vastly different from the last.

The Buddhists and the military united against Diem as a common enemy. But there is no common enemy now.

"The Americans and the Communists must go," says Thich Quang Lien, 39, a Yale graduate, pacifist, and a ranking Buddhist leader.

"Who will gain victory in this war?" Quang Lien asks. "Who will suffer defeat?"

He answers, "Whatever happens, our people suffer."

Other Buddhist leaders talk less about the American presence and the Viet Cong. They refer vaguely to the Viet Cong in terms of wayward members of the flock rather than the enemy.

There seems no doubt that the Buddhists want peace and want it soon. They see the war from the point of view of the peasants and the war refugees who flock to the pagodas for haven and guidance as the war widens.

All Were Novice Monks

It was from within the lower classes that the Buddhist leaders themselves originated. All of them were novice monks at the age of 15, received initial education at Buddhist schools and universities, and ascended within the Buddhist hierarchy by way of country pagodas and deep religious learning. Except for Quang Lien, their contact with the outside world has been only at Buddhist congresses and retreats at Japan, Formosa, Thailand and Ceylon.

The military leaders have led completely different lives. The chairman of the military directors, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, is a Roman Catholic.

Hatred of the Enemy

Thieu and the other generals are proud of their military careers and eager to get on with the war. Years of combat, first with the French against the Vietminh, and then against the Viet Cong, have inculcated into the military leadership a hatred of the enemy that is almost a vendetta.

The three years since the overthrow of Diem have seen government after government collapse, with chaos the only pattern. The Buddhists still seem as politically crude as in the days when they tore down Diem's barbed-wire barricades with bare hands.

Treated With Venom

The Buddhists have treated each government with the venom they directed at Diem. This has been true with the present Nguyen Cao Ky government, even though Ky was the mediator between the Buddhists and former strong man Nguyen Khanh in 1964 and has always treated the Buddhists with kid gloves.

The military can be clumsy, too. The ouster of powerful Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi from the junta created the current crisis. Then Ky embarrassed his friends and delighted his enemies by describing the Da Nang authorities as Communists. They have not forgiven him.

Ky, like all the ruling generals, is French-oriented. An air force pilot trained by the French in North Africa, he became commander of Saigon Airport in 1956 at 25 years of age and eventually took over the air force. He is 42.

Aware of Trouble

Thieu was deputy prime minister in the Phan Huy Quat government in early 1965 and has built up confidence with U.S.

military men. He is the most worldly of the military junta and seems well aware of the international ramifications of the Vietnamese conflict.

One is Defense Minister Pham Xuan Chieu, secretary-general of the military directorate, has an educational and military background similar to Thieu's. He reportedly sees himself as a potential premier of Viet Nam. He is 43.

Unlike Thieu and Chieu

Two other senior military men lack the political or military sophistication of Thieu and Chieu.

One is Defense Minister Nguyen Huu Co, a former field commander. Ascetic-looking Co seems the most unpopular member of the military hierarchy because of his aloofness and deviousness.

The other general is Cao Van Vien, like Co in his middle 30s, and currently chief of staff. The Buddhist hierarchy seems completely disinterested in foreign affairs.

"Viet Nam should be free on all entanglements," says Quang Lien, the nearest to a foreign minister the Buddhists have.

The most powerful Buddhist monk, the enigmatic Thich Tri Quang, has not gone on record with a foreign policy pronouncement.

Tri Quang has been labeled the "extremist" leader and is assisted by Thich Thien Minh, an equally mysterious monk in his early 30s who was directly involved in organizing the early rash of street demonstrations in Saigon two weeks ago. He visited several Asian countries last year.

The "moderate" leader in the Buddhist hierarchy is Thich Tam Chau, 44, a monk born in North Viet Nam with a teaming, bespectacled face. Tam Chau always gives the impression of being pushed around, and he probably is by extremists. He heads the Buddhist organization in Viet Nam, Tri Quang has the vague title of "spiritual leader."

Weekend News in Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world's crises seemed to be taking a short spring-like breather over the weekend.

However, there were these developments: U. S. - Mexican relations appeared to flower, three U.S. jets were shot down over North Viet Nam, an era in world culture came to a close and a Georgia outing ended in three deaths.

Plan More Meetings

President Johnson, obviously pleased with his Mexican trip, said he plans two more meetings with Mexico's President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

He also indicated he planned a Latin-American trip for Mrs. Johnson. But when the First Lady was questioned about it Sunday, she said she had "no present plans" to make the trip. Mrs. Johnson said she would always remember her recent three days in Mexico.

The President also named career diplomat John W. Tuthill to be the new U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

Another member of the Johnson family, Lynda Bird, was in Los Angeles to keep a date with actor George Hamilton for the Academy Award presentations Monday night.

North Vietnamese gunners downed three U.S. jets attacking Communist supply centers, but all five Americans aboard were rescued. B52 bombers from Guam struck in South Viet Nam, 15 miles from the Buddhist center of Hue, at what a U.S. spokesman said was a North Vietnamese regiment. A full persisted, however, in field operations of the South Vietnamese armed forces, and political agitation against Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government was light.

Freak Blast Kills Three

At Trenton, Ga., three persons suffocated in carbon monoxide gas in a freak cave explosion. Three others were rescued after a 12-hour search. Two of the victims had been attempting to rescue the trapped explorers. The third had been guiding the three Boy Scouts who survived.

To the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," the Metropolitan Opera Company gave its farewell performance Saturday night in the old house where it was born. For more than five hours, the Met's stars presented arias and excerpts from great operas. The Met is moving to new quarters in Lincoln Center, in uptown New York City.

Other weekend happenings: The body of Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref, who was killed in a helicopter crash, was carried through Baghdad's crowded streets on a gun carriage and buried in his family graveyard. His brother, Maj. Gen. Abdul Rahman Aref, took over as president.

In Washington, the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee prepared to give the back of its hand to GOP candidates running as segregationists in the South.

Army Develops New Armored Helicopter for Viet Nam War

By CLARKE STALLWORTH

The Columbus Ledger

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) —

They call it Guns a Go-Go. It is a special unit of volunteer army gunners and three big converted helicopters loaded with armament and armor.

These gunships will not be sitting ducks in Viet Nam in contrast to smaller helicopters now in use. These test ships are more like flying tanks. They even have cannons.

'Armored Aircraft'

"This is strictly armored aircraft," said Col. William J. Tedesco, 30, commander of the test unit which officially is called the Field Evaluation Detachment CH47.

Guns a Go-Go is another improvisation born of problems in the Viet Nam war.

U.S. combat helicopters in Viet Nam now carry several M60 machine-guns and pods of 2.75-inch rockets. The UH1, CH21 and CH34 helicopters are used.

Present Gun Lacks Range

But these craft, coming over a strike zone behind an Air Force bombing run, often encounter fire from machine guns of the Viet Cong. The disadvantage of the shorter-range helicopter guns is obvious.

Basically, none of the helicopters now in use as gunships was designed for weaponry. Defense contracts recently were awarded for the first helicopter designed exclusively as a weapons ship. But Tedesco said it likely will be five years before the new ship is ready.

This gave rise to Guns a Go-Go.

The Chinooks at Ft. Benning are CH47, the Army's largest helicopter, and normally a carrier capable of hauling 33 men.

Increased Fire Power

After conversion, each of the Chinooks has his armament:

Two 20mm cannons, five 50-caliber machine guns, a 40mm grenade launcher, two 19-tube rocket pods firing the 2.75-inch rocket, and a 6.72mm minigun with six barrels which are interchangeable with the rocket pods.

"We can strike any point within a radius of 150 miles," said Tedesco. He described the converted craft capability as "three hours and 45 minutes of endurance," the Army parlance.

They can move in after the bombing run and hover while firing to keep the Viet Cong from manning machine guns.

BUY CHEAP, SELL HIGH

Communism, the Communists never weary of telling us, is a higher stage of economic organization than capitalism. It is the ultimate, inevitable stage which, someone named Khrushchev once promised, our grandchildren will live under.

For a higher form of economic organization, however, communism as practiced by the Soviet Union bears a startling similarity to an early phase of capitalism. The Russians, at least in their relations with their satellites, seem only to have arrived at something called "mercantilism," which became fully developed in the West in the 18th century.

In simplest terms, mercantilism was a national policy of getting the highest possible profit from international trade with the least possible investment. In its heyday, it spurred the race for colonies between the nations of Europe, because colonies provided both a cheap source of raw materials and a captive market for manufactured goods from the home country.

In the years since half of Europe fell into its lap, the Soviet Union has placed an immensely profitable stranglehold on the economies of seven eastern and central European countries — Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

According to the Assembly of Captive European Nations which bases its claim on official Soviet trade reports, in the 10 years from 1955 to 1964, these seven countries were compelled to feed an "illegitimate" profit of $12.8 billion into the Soviet economy.

This tidy sum was acquired by charging the seven countries higher prices for Soviet exports and paying them lower prices for imports than the Soviets pay and charge in their export-import trade with western Europe.

Specifically, overcharges on Soviet exports to east-central European countries amounted to $7.3 billion, or 31.2 per cent over the amount these countries would have had to pay for the same volume of goods at prices charged by the U.S.S.R. to western European customers.

Underpayments for imports from east-central Europe totalled $5.5 billion less than the U.S.S.R. would have had to pay in the western European market for the same goods.

Numerous observers at the recent 23rd party congress in Moscow remarked on the atmosphere of success, stability and conservatism which seemed to surround the delegates, who dutifully listened to a long series of speeches that sounded more like the reports of corporation comptrollers than the exhortations of ideological revolutionaries.

The general impression was that the Soviets aren't about to start rocking any boats.

Little wonder. They have a good thing going for them, with no serious signs that the natives in the colonies are getting restless.

HAZARDS FOR TRUSTFUL

P. T. Barnum was only half right when he said, "There's one born every minute." If it's true that each generation produces its quota of the gullible and the gulled, it's just as certain that the birth rate of swindlers and cheats maintains a pretty constant level.

A recent survey conducted by the National Better Business Bureau, Inc., shows that the con artists are thriving today as ever they did. The NBBB polled 114 Better Business Bureaus, asking them to list the most common frauds and rackets in their communities.

No. 1 around the country was "bait and switch," wherein a fantastically low-priced (and worthless) item is advertised as bait to lure the customer, who is then switched to buying a higher-priced product. The increased prevalence of this scheme, the survey found, is largely due to its use in selling freezer meats, sewing machines and wigs.

The rest of the top 10 rackets in order were:

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WHERE WELFARE COSTS MUST LEAD US

In seventeen states of the union the liquor business is a public monopoly. Most of these states went into the business of operating licensed package stores for purposes limited to control of drinking. But now that the threat to displace private package stores has cropped up in New York State, where the need for vastly increased public revenues has been dramatized by Mayor John Lindsay's despairing hunt for funds to support New York City, one wonders how long the government's interest in liquor will be bounded by the concept of "control."

It stands to reason that, once a Welfare State reaches a certain point in its development, public revenues for taxation will not be sufficient to cover the "pay out" that is necessary to support Medicare and Aid to Education and the War Against Poverty and Foreign Aid and Urban Renewal and all the other goodies now being put on the State display shelves for the taking. Current tax rates just won't yield the annual $112 billion and more that the Federal government will have to squeeze out of the people in order to meet its commitments, to say nothing of the additional $80 billion which the states and municipalities must have. Moreover, there cannot be any startling upward adjustment of tax rates without killing the capitalist goose that lays the golden tax eggs. We are already a sweated population, and there is nothing more the government can get out of us in income taxes or excise taxes that will not boomerang by causing a depression.

So, as the saying goes, "something's gotta give," and history tells us that it won't be the politicians. Once they have offered something to the voters "for free," they never dare retract the largesse which they have so liberally granted out of "other people's money." For a time, the largesse can be financed by borrowing, or simply by running a federal budgetary deficit. But there is a limit to this, too, as inflationary states like Brazil have discovered.

The committed Welfare State government has one recourse, however, and that is to substitute a seizure of income-producing industries for a tax on incomes. This puts the liquor industry squarely on the spot, for phony "moral" reasons can be offered to justify seizure of liquor stores. One can get just as drunk on whiskey purchased at a government-operated package store as one can on liquor bought from a privately owned shop, but the pretense is that a government dispensary will be more circumspect when it comes to choosing its clients.

The private alcoholic beverage industry can offer some very telling statistics in justification of its conduct under a system of Free Enterprise. It argues that per capita consumption of liquor today is below the supposed average of the 1.95 gallons per capita that was put away during the Prohibition years, when nobody was supposed to be drinking. The 1965 estimated per capita consumption was 1.50 gallons, which is proof that "moderation" is a post-Al Capone phenomenon, at least relatively speaking.

But all the evidence that the U.S. is conservative in its drinking habits under the present Free Enterprise dispensation will most likely go by the board when the politicians begin scratching for money. At least eight states — New York, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Alaska, Massachusetts, Florida, Georgia, and Minnesota — have been talking about liquor monopoly legislation. The handwriting is on the wall.

If and when the seizure comes, a lot of small businessmen will be the chief victims. One thinks of those retired baseball players, such as Roy Campanella, the crippled Brooklyn Dodger catcher, who have invested their savings in package stores. They stand to be the next victims of the march of the Welfare State when the politicians make their predictable move to "socialize" the most vulnerable of our income-producing industries.

The private liquor business may have few friends when it comes to fending off the politicians, but if one industry can be socialized for revenue purposes, why not another? "And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE WELL CHILD

Children Will Usually Outgrow Night Terrors

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A mother writes that her 4-year-old son awakens at night screaming and shaking. He is otherwise healthy. She wonders whether these spells could be a result of his having had convulsions when he was smaller.

Night terrors are seen most often in children who are between ages 3 and 8. The spells come at an hour or two after the child goes to sleep and cause him to sit up, break out in a sweat, scream and tremble. Although he clutches his mother or whoever comes to him he does not recognize persons or his surroundings for several minutes.

These attacks usually occur in children who are nervous, high-strung or in poor health but I at one could prove that they occurred in previous convulsive seizures.

When the child is fully awakened the mother should try to get him to talk about what was frightening him, then reassure him that everything is all right. If the attacks recur frequently she should try to see that his waking hours are spent in calmer surroundings.

Children usually outgrow these night terrors but then, like the rest of us, they may still have an occasional nightmare. Nightmares are much less intense. They may cause a child to whimper or cry out in his sleep without awakening or sitting up in bed. If a nightmare does awaken a child he knows where he is and recognizes the fact that he was dreaming.

Q—My son, 15, has Scheurmann's disease. What causes this? Is it serious? What is the treatment?

A—Epiphysitis (inflammation of the growth center of a bone) takes several forms. The cause is unknown. When it affects the vertebrae it is called Scheurmann's disease. Your son will outgrow it by the time his bony growth is complete but until then he should wear a brace.

Q—We have just been told that our 12-year-old son has epilepsy. Was he born with it or how did he get it? Can he outgrow it?

A—Most children with epilepsy were born with it even though it doesn't manifest itself until the child reaches his teens. Although he will not outgrow the disease, methods of controlling it have been greatly improved in recent years. For more detailed information you should write to the Epilepsy Foundation (1729 F St., N.W., Washington, D.C., 20006).

"Mind if I Look Over Your Shoulder?"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The American aid man was tired. He's been in from nine months in Viet Nam for only a few days and was going right back.

He was in a hurry to leave Washington. He resented a little the having to come back to the United States even for a week or two to help with recruiting. He wanted the new men, all right. But he didn't like to be hauled away from his province.

"There's too much that needs doing," he said. "There aren't enough of us. By the time you get out to the field — the provinces — we're spread too thin."

"I'd been out there with the Army. I decided I wanted to go back. I believe in what we're doing."

"My whole family is involved. My daughter is a nurse in Viet Nam. My son is out there, too. My wife is in Bangkok. You won't see me back here again for a year and a half. I hope."

"WE'RE HURTING THE VIET CONG," a farmer said in the other day and said the VC had been taxing him 90 per cent of his rice crop. They're not making friends that way.

"But we have problems, too. The farmers in my area complain they're not getting the cheap fertilizer they've been promised by the government. They say they know the Americans are bringing it in. It's not getting to them. They suspect graft."

"What they don't know is that the problem is inefficiency. The fertilizer has been lying around in government warehouses. There was a financial breakdown in the government company and things stood still. Maybe they've got some new money by now."

"But what do you do to get better officials? A village chief — in charge of three to 12 hamlets — makes 1,500 piasters ($12). A bar girl can make 10 to 20 times as much."

THEN THERE'S GRAFT, he said. There are a lot of refugees. The distribution of food and supplies tempts men who want to skim off some piasters for themselves.

The province chief is an honest man. He has started a system he thinks will put a crimp in this food-and-materials-diversion racket.

Now, before things go out to the refugees, the province chief announces what each refugee is going to get. He makes certain the word gets to everyone.

Then he sends his own man along to watch the distribution. But what he's counting on is that if a refugee doesn't get what he's been told he's supposed to get, he'll complain.

This province chief doesn't stop there. Over the radio, he asks the villagers and townspeople to write him anonymous letters if they've been unlawfully taxed or if they know officials who divert fertilizer or other goods to their own profit.

He hasn't caught any big fish yet. But it's bringing some results.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Some writers are more alive after they die. O. Henry is one. He is known and respected universally, and yet he left 56 years ago this June. When he died, he left a mark as a short-story writer who used an ironic twist as a last line to all his tales.

His style is date; he never wrote a novel; his heroes spoke in the stiff circumlocution of the 19th century; his heroines wore long hair in buns, and leg-of-mutton sleeves, and hems which swept the sidewalks; his plots—amusing and tragic—were built deftly and sometimes clumsily toward that stinger in the last sentence.

O. Henry had weaknesses. And yet my affection for this man deepens with time. Why? Because the enthusiasm he had for telling a story is still visible in the reading. One reads the sentences and feels the love O. Henry had in spelling them. He enjoyed his work and he didn't want his readers to miss even one small phrase descriptive of a house, a road, a man or a town.

His name, as you know, was not O. Henry. It was William Sydney Porter. He was born Sept. 11, 1862—the second year of the Civil War—in Greensboro, N.C. It is difficult to understand what made him bubble, because few areas were happy in his life.

His father, Algernon Sidney Porter, was a physician who didn't enjoy medicine. He preferred to doodle with ideas, like a perpetual motion machine he almost invented. His mother, Mary Jane Swain, died when William was three. The boy grew up in a town listless under the heel of Reconstruction.

Willy didn't like school, even though his aunt was the teacher. He left when he was 15 and studied pharmacy at his uncle's drugstore. If William Porter had a talent, it was drawing. His sketches were highly regarded by all the customers, but even though he was popular as a chubby, blond, talking kid, everyone guessed that he would go nowhere in life.

When he was 20—in 1882—the young man had an unhealthy pallor and a doctor advised him to go to a dry climate. Cheerfully, he left for Texas. There, he lived with an old Greensboro family and matured quickly. He showed an interest in studying French and Spanish, began to write poor stories about the plains and cowhands, and moved to Austin.

Suddenly, he was not averse to work; Porter was a clerk, a bookkeeper, a teller in the First National Bank. He tried harder to write, felt the chest-tightening excitement of telling a good story and writing one and, when he was 25, eloped with Athol Estes, who was 17. He was happy.

This was his serene moment in time. It had taken years to arrive, and it would leave quickly and permanently. He drew sketches for the Detroit Free Press, and was delighted to see them published. He edited a humorous weekly, quit his job at the bank, and, in 1895, moved to Houston to write a column for the Daily Post.

The next year he was ordered to return to Austin to stand trial

Perils Noted in Predicting Racial Strife for Cities

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Leaders of Negro organizations kee on issuing predictions of violence this summer. Various cities are named as "targets" for organized "demonstrations" of one kind or another. Some of these forecasts say that 40 or more cities will be involved. Inevitably tensions of certain neighborhoods begin to get uneasy and apprehensive, and counter-resentments are built up.

This is not the first time such predictions have been publicized. But just what is the purpose of it all? Can such comments be regarded merely as free speech, or are they a means of threatening or inciting violence in order to intimidate or pressure Congress into legislative action of some kind?

The "law of the land," as expressed in opinions of the Supreme Court of the United States, has for years contained the principle that freedom of speech does not include the right to cry "Fire!" in a crowded theater. There are orderly ways to deal with racial problems but to threaten violence as a means of attaining a legislative end or influencing public opinion is certainly not covered by freedom of speech as defined in the Supreme Court ruling long in effect.

Incitement to violence has been noticeable in connection with street "demonstrations," but though these have been organized presumably with the sole intent of debating a public issue. But it is a tragic fact that some of the "demonstrations" or "sit-ins" of "die-ins" have resulted in violence.

Unquestionably there are grievances which have long been neglected, and it is natural to attribute bitter feelings to delays in providing remedies. But the question is whether the leaders of the affected groups or blocs are unwittingly inciting people to violence by continually emphasizing such a prospect.

Since the riot on Easter Monday in Washington, for instance, reports have been current that the disturbance was "planned." This has been denied by Negro leaders, though the charge was made by police officers. If such riots are deliberately incited, it is not the function of the Department of Justice to investigate and bring criminal action against the offenders? If the department is too much influenced by the Administration's sensitiveness about losing Negro votes, then it would still seem possible for some committee of Congress to look into "demonstrations" which allegedly have been or are being planned with the clandestine purpose of inciting violence.

Likewise, an inquiry is long overdue on interferences with interstate commerce by organizations urging boycotts such as are threatened or are being carried on against Washington stores which refuse to take sides in the "home rule" controversy in the District of Columbia.

The City of Washington has also been the victim of riots which certainly deserve a thorough investigation by a Congressional committee, if not by the Department of Justice.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has rightly investigated the Ku Klux Klan because of its night rides and violence, but doesn't incitement to violence by Negro leaders also come under the heading of an "Un-American activity"?

There is some reason to believe that Communists have infiltrated various "civil rights" organizations, but leaders of those groups insists that if such a thing is occurring, they have no knowledge of it.

Every statement in the last two years, however, in which violence has been publicly mentioned as probable unless Negro rights were upheld and discrimination removed needs to be re-examined to determine whether Federal or state statutes have been transgressed. Those who preach that "civil disobedience" and deliberate violations of law are justified may be contributing to the very outbursts of violence which often occur immediately thereafter in a given area. These episodes are becoming more frequent and now are threatened in lots of cities during "the long hot summer."

The American people believe in law and order. Whether it is whites or Negroes who become embittered about injustices, the same rule applies: there is no right to incite violence.

Boy Scout News Area Scouts Tour Historic Sites

Monday and Tuesday of Easter Week some 20 members of Troop 14, Lake Katrine, sponsored by the Church of St. Catherine Labouré made a tour of historic Philadelphia, Pa.

Joined by 10 members of Troop 14 in White Plains, the scouts and leaders visited Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell and had a chance to walk in the very building where the Declaration of Independence was signed. During the tour of Independence National Park, in the heart of the city, the scouts visited other buildings rich in American history. Among the highlights were Old Christ Church, where many of the Colonial Patriots worshipped; the house of Betsy Ross, maker of the first flag, and St. Joseph's Church, the oldest Catholic church in the city. A walk through Elfreth's Alley, a colonial street still occupied by residents living in the original buildings concluded the first afternoon's tour.

The second morning was devoted to a visit to the Franklin Institute where numerous displays of science and industry carry on the inventive spirit of Benjamin Franklin. The troop also stopped at the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, where the Rev. James LeBar of St. Catherine's Church celebrated Mass for the scouts.

A visit to the City Hall of Philadelphia and a view of the city from its observation tower, 547 feet above the ground, concluded the visit to the City of Brotherly Love by the scouts of Troop 14.

One-Fourth of Mankind

(1) The Middle Kingdom

by Don Oakley and John Lane

It is quite clear then that the old culture which we wish to sweep away cannot be isolated from the old politics and old economy of our nation.

—Mao Tse-tung

Sixteen years have passed since the Chinese Communists began sweeping away the old culture of China—a nation with a recorded history of nearly 4,000 years, one of the oldest continuously existing civilizations on earth.

Yet the revolution that has overtaken China under the Communists is but a continuation of the revolution set in motion more than a century ago when Europeans began knocking vigorously at the door of "the slumbering giant."

It is a paradox—and a dangerous one—for our time that the new China which they helped create remains as remote and mysterious to many Westerners as the old China was to the Romans, who knew vaguely of the Chinese as "the Silk People."

With the largest population in the world, estimated at some 700 million—roughly one-fourth of mankind—and with the third greatest land area, the changes taking place in China are of profound concern to all men. By sheer size alone, she must inevitably play a leading role in Asian affairs.

China is half a million square miles larger than the 48 United States and occupies about the same latitudes on the opposite side of the globe. But because of the severe nature of most of the interior, the vast bulk of her population lives in the east in an area half the size of the United States.

Seriously lacking in many of the natural resources required by an industrial nation, China's greatest resource, as in the past, is her energetic, inventive, long-suffering people. The Chinese had seen most forms of government and social experiment—feudalism, monarchy, socialism, totalitarianism—2,000 years before Charlemagne, Louis XIV, Marx, Hitler. Even the idea of the "Great Society" was old to them centuries before Christ.

Today, however, they are being molded into a cohesive, single-minded entity not known before in their long history. The ancient ways are utterly overthrown and China is determined to enter the modern age and regain her historical place of leadership as the "Middle Kingdom"—the center of the world.

Nevertheless, whatever edifice emerges from this era of rebuilding, it will rest on foundations 4,000 years deep in history.

Thus he who would understand the new China must first examine the old.

Show Abnormalities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Harvard psychiatrist says young men and women who demonstrate against the U.S. government's Viet Nam policy show few abnormalities. "As a psychiatrist who has worked with children and adolescent youths," said Dr. Robert Coles, "I can make little psychiatric distinction between these youths and others I see every day."

Coles, a research psychiatrist at Harvard University Health Services, addressed the American Orthopsychiatric Association's convention here Friday. He said about the Viet Nam demonstrators: "In only one case could I detect a disorder of thinking. . . . They are not deluded, they hear no voices and have no wild incoherent or outrageous fantasies."

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — To a seasoned viewer of television news specials, it sometimes seems that the international cast of characters is becoming quite familiar.

That is because although there are a lot of persons over the world who hold important jobs or reflect important opinions, many of them do not speak English — or anyway do not speak it well enough to be understood by an American audience.

Picked on Abilities

Thus Gen. Pierre Gallois, who speaks good, clear, tough English, recently has been popping up all over the channels to reflect the French viewpoint. So has former Defense Minister Franz Joseph Strauss of West Germany. Abba Eban, Israel's foreign minister, speaks unaccented Oxford English and Egypt's Abdel Gamal Nasser handles the language well, too.

When Konrad Adenauer, whose English is on the lean side, was chancellor of West Germany, he was much less well known to American audiences than the mayor of Berlin, Willy Brandt, who speaks it fluently.

Thus when NBC presented a documentary on nuclear proliferation Sunday, the national spokesmen apparently were picked partly for their language abilities.

No one has yet been able to find a way to handle translations satisfactorily for television viewers. During the important sessions of the United Nations Security Council, for instance, we heard only the bland, unemotional voice of the translator while speakers like Andrei Gromyko, on camera, obviously were orating passionately in full voice. When an interview is conducted through an interpreter, it is slow and difficult for all concerned.

'Big Guy' Scores

Earlier in the afternoon NBC started a weekly series of film, tape and comment on the Viet Nam war. Garrick Utley, a young correspondent recently returned from the conflict, presides over the review in a serious, journalistic manner.

Most interesting and artfully constructed documentary of recent weeks was ABC's "The Big Guy," Friday. The hour special followed two heavyweight fighters in and out of the ring. Their physical and emotional battering, brutal and painful to watch, turned the 60 minutes into a potent argument against boxing as a sport.

Oscars Tonight

The annual Oscar Awards take over ABC's channels tonight at 10 p.m. EST. There will be Bob Hope as MC, stars and speeches galore—and one new touch. For the benefit of the hard of hearing, ABC will print the names of the stars as they come on the stage.

Three Injured In Two-Car Crash At Saugerties

Three persons were injured in a two car collision which occurred at 1 p. m. Sunday at the intersection of Main Street and Washington Avenue, Saugerties. Officer Donald Playford said the cars were driven by George W. Gakenheimer, 78, of 312 Washington Avenue, this city and Anthony Simonelli, 41, of Paterson, N. J. Officer Playford said Gakenheimer was driving east on Main Street and Simonelli was going south on Washington Avenue, when the crash occurred.

Playford reported that the Simonelli car was spun around at the intersection, and the Gakenheimer vehicle continued on, demolished a shed used by the school crossing guard, knocked an attached tank of gas 63 feet and came to stop on the Main Street School lawn.

Taken to Benedictine hospital in the Saugerties Ambulance were Gakenheimer, who sustained a broken knee; Janet Simonelli, who received head injuries, and Laura Simonelli, 15, whose injuries were not determined.

Police said charges are pending.

Local Delegate To Attend Jewish Spring Conclave

Ephraim Prodn, 167 Bruyn Avenue, president of the Congregation Ahavath Israel, 72 Wurts Street, this city, will take part in the spring conference of the Capital State and Great Lakes Regions of the United Synagogue of America, to be held May 1, at Temple Adath Yeshurun, 601 South Crouse Avenue, Syracuse.

Participating in the conference will be representatives from 33 conservative congregations in upstate and western New York which comprises the Capital State and Great Lakes Region. Dr. Max Fishelson, a member of Knesses Israel in Pittsfield, Mass. is president of the Capital State Region.

Rabbi Simon Glustrom, Fair Lawn N. J., Jewish Center, will deliver the keynote address, entitled "Attitudes of Jewish College-Age Youth and the Future of American Judaism." Rabbi Glustrom is a graduate of the Yeshiva University and of the Teacher's Institute of the Yeshiva. He was ordained at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in 1948 and received his master's degree in Hebrew Literature from that institution.

Also featured at the conference will be a series of workshops on Interfaith and College-Age Youth, The Tzafon Region of the USY, and The Day School and The Day School Concept.

The United Synagogue is the congregational arm of the Conservative Movement in Judaism, embracing more than 800 synagogues in the United States and Canada. Its members and adherents number approximately one and one half million persons.

FBI Man's Car Taken From Courthouse Lot

A bold thief, who apparently has no fear of the law was sought today for questioning in connection with the theft of a 1966 hardtop car belonging to FBI Agent Jack Lupton.

The car was taken from the county parking lot near the county jail and sheriff's office. It was reported missing at 4:45 a. m. Sunday and 10 minutes later Officers Edward Ortel and Curtis Vandermark found the missing car in a lot near the Park Diner.

How Kay O'Grady defended herself when Joe Neylon made a pass:

It was easy. Kay's a defensive driver, so naturally when Joe wanted to pass her, she helped him. She checked the road ahead for oncoming cars, and since she saw one, she slowed down to let Joe in line in front of her. She not only saved Joe—but defended herself from a multi-car crash. Are you a defensive driver?

Expect Ulster Committee Will Endorse Rolison

Jay P. Rolison Jr., Poughkeepsie attorney, appears to be well on the road to receiving the Republican designation for State Senator in the 38th district.

Retiring State Senator R. Watson Pomeroy and Hamilton Fish Jr., both of Dutchess County, have given strong support to the Poughkeepsie attorney and it is expected the Ulster County Executive Committee, meeting this evening, will also endorse the candidacy of Rolison.

Endorsement of the executive committee tonight in effect would be a recommendation to the Ulster County Republican convention, set for Saturday, that Mr. Rolison be designated.

It was not until last Saturday that Rolison announced his candidacy and made it official. At that time he said he would seek the support of the Ulster committee.

Senator Pomeroy is retiring from the Senate this year to seek nomination and election as a delegate to the 1967 state constitutional convention. Senator Pomeroy said he is "very pleased that Mr. Rolison is seeking the nomination."

Hamilton Fish, Jr., of Millbrook, who is contending with Alexander "Sam" Aldrich of Old Chatham, for the Republican Congressional nomination to oppose Democratic Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, 28th Congressional District has asserted that Mr. Rolison "will add a lot to the ticket and made a first-class candidate." Fish has already rejected a bid to seek the State Senate post.

Both Jesse McMugh of Wallkill, vice-chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, and Howard C. St. John, former City of Kingston Republican chairman and a former Ulster district attorney, said they expected Mr. Rolison to receive the support of the Ulster GOP executive committee at its meeting this evening.

Quilty Mentioned

However there appears to be some persons in the political picture who feel that Ulster County should not go unrepresented in the race. There have been reports that Lawrence Quilty, Kingston insurance man and a former Kingston police commissioner, and Melvin Mones, president of the Kingston Water Board, have supporters for the nod for State Senate.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle of the 12th Ward, Quilty's ward, is one who feels that Ulster County should not go unrepresented in the race. While Raichle had not committed himself to any candidate, he said to day he felt the county should be represented in the race and Quilty would make a good candidate.

John Dakin, Pleasant Valley GOP chairman, has also come out for Rolison when the Dutchess County chairman said "Mr. Rolison would be a credit to the Senate and the district."

Alderman John Machione of the 12th Ward, has been quoted as having the same idea as Raichle, that Quilty would make a good candidate for the State Senate.

Other supporters for Mr. Rolison are Thomas Johnson, Millbrook, Dutchess County Committee treasurer who gave his "full and enthusiastic support" to Rolison and John Debroski, Town of Red Hook Republican chairman who said he "unanimously backs Jay."

It is expected the Ulster executive committee tonight will give its support to Pilson.

Savings and Loan Bank Will Build Computer Center

FISHKILL — Ground was broken today for a computer center that will enable scores of savings and loan associations throughout the state to bring the power of two IBM computers directly to their customer service windows.

The central computing facility is being built by the Savings and Loan Bank of the State of New York. It will house two computers from IBM's most advanced line of computing equipment, System/360. Both are Model 30's.

Through a technique known as time-sharing, tellers in every savings and loan association that takes the new service will be able to use the computers as if they were actually on the premises.

IBM 1062 terminals will be installed at customer service windows. Telephone lines will connect the terminals to the central computer where deposit records of each savings and loan association will be kept on the computer files.

The effect is to give tellers a direct line to records in computer files which are kept completely up to date at every moment.

Savings & Loan Bank acts as a central reserve and service bank for New York's 138 state chartered savings and loan associations. It is offering the new service to them and to 85 federal associations in the state.

Otto J. Rabstajnek, president, said that to date 35 savings and loan members have commitments to participate. "We expect this number to reach 100 shortly after the installation of the IBM Computers later this year," he said. "In any event, the system will be the largest of its kind in the nation."

Intrusion Charged

Donald M. Ross, 39, who police said has no home, was booked early Sunday on a charge of unlawful intrusion. City court hearing was today put over to Tuesday. Police said he had entered the Common Council chamber, City Hall. The arrest was by Officers Richard Scherer and Kenneth Radel.

Resnick ...

Social Security bill through, only 10 Republicans in the entire Congress voted for it. They haven't changed. They voted against medicare, federal aid to education and better roads. You name it, they voted against it. The Republican Party is not prejudiced, it would just as soon vote against the farmer and the poor and the working man. The Republicans are mad at me. I took their seat ... like it was written into the Constitution that it belonged to the Republican Party. Fulton Lewis Jr. considers me a threat to the nation.

Primaries Healthy Thing
"We can win and I pledge to you the same devotion and same hard work in this campaign. Many people have asked me about the primaries of various candidates and I say to you this is a very healthy thing for the Democratic Party. I think many of you remember the day when there was no one who wanted the nomination and we were looking for a sacrificial lamb. But today the Democrats can and will win."

"We saw it with Kennedy, we will see it with all of the Democrats in 1966."

'Loves Home Town More'
"Now there is a question of where I live and where I come from. I come from Ellenville, N. Y. and it's my home town. It's where I was brought up, that's where I will always be registered, in Ellenville, Ulster County. It's not that I love Dutchess less, but that I love my home town more."

Resnick was nominated by George Barthel and seconded by several.

Others Endorsed
Others endorsed by the Convention after Chairman Aaron E. Klein had called the session to order were:

State Senator, 38th District, Robert Mandia of Clintondale, who was a candidate for assembly last year. Mandia won over Joseph Amato, president of the Hudson River Brick Handlers Union and Glenn C. Van Bramer of Poughkeepsie, legislative aide to Congressman Resnick and a former Millbrook newspaperman. Mandia received 104 votes, Amato 50 and Van Bramer 45. Today Van Bramer expressed his gratification for the Ulster support and said he would take the matter of endorsement to the Dutchess County Democratic convention which will be held on April 25 in Poughkeepsie.

Van Bramer was nominated by Former Town of Rosendale Supervisor George Mollenhauer. Van Bramer said he "fully expected to receive endorsement in Dutchess County."

Majestic for Assembly
Supervisor George Majestic of Gardiner received the designation for Member of Assembly by defeating Supervisor George Barthel of Wawarsing by a vote of 14 to 42.

Robert Mitchell Jr. of Town of Ulster was unopposed and received the designation for the office of County Clerk.

There was no nomination for the office of coroner. This matter was left to the Committee on Vacancies which includes County Chairman Aaron E. Klein, Secretary Charles J. Tiano and Dr. Gorman.

McCordle, Mrs. Coty Win
A contest developed for State Committeeman. James T. McCordle, former City Democratic chairman, of Hurley narrowly defeated John J. Schick, present chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee by a vote of 92 to 90. It was interesting to note the strength of the city vote in the contest.

The city gave McCordle a 34 to 12 edge while in the Town of Saugerties McCordle received 14 votes to one for Schick. The Town of Wawarsing went all-out for Schick who received all of the town's 26 votes.

There was also a contest for the designation for State Committeewoman. In that contest Mrs. Irma Coty of Wawarsing received 109 votes to defeat Mrs. Dorothy Narel of West Hurley who received 71 votes.

The convention was held at the John F. Kennedy school in Kingston. County Chairman Klein presided and secretary of

Reynolds Explains School Candidacy

The importance of thoughtful planning to prepare today's youth for tomorrow's world was stressed today by Milton L. Reynolds, one of seven candidates for the three positions to be filled on the Board of Education of Kingston City Schools, Consolidated.

Reynolds, running as an independent, issued the following statement to explain why he has become a candidate:

"As a former teacher, the father of four school-age children, and a mathematician employed in industry as a planner of future systems, I feel sure I can make a favorable contribution in the planning of our school system."

"As a taxpayer in the Third Ward for the past nine years, and an active participant in community work including 4-H, Scouts, and Parent-Teacher organizations, I am close to the feelings and wishes of the citizens of the school district."

"Today our community is in a transitional state. Change is taking place at a rapid, ever-accelerating pace. The educational system on which all other systems depend must stay in stride in its present and future planning if it is to serve the community by effectively developing its youth."

"The school board has the responsibility and the final vote in setting policy of the educational system. It is therefore necessary to have as members of this board persons who are prepared and willing to determine the needs, communicate with all persons or groups included, analyze the possible approaches, and set into policy the solution that is best for the training of our youth."

"To the Board of Education I will bring a background, experience, and a willingness to serve which will enable me to make positive contributions to the rational thinking required to bring about the kind of educational system needed to prepare today's youth to face tomorrow's world."

"Each of us has a responsibility in the education of our children and youth, and the right to express ourselves in this area. One way of doing this is by voting in the School Election. I urge everyone who is eligible to vote on May 3."

Fire Damages Boat

A 17-foot inboard boat owned by Richard Snyder of 89 Elm Street, Saugerties, was extensively damaged by fire Sunday shortly after 4 p. m., according to Officer Donald Playford. Police said Snyder was working on his 1948 boat off Ulster Avenue, and when the engine was started it backfired through the carburetor and burst into flames. Saugerties firemen were dispatched to the scene to quell the flames.

Jaycees Attend Syracuse Meet On Retardation

The New York State Association for Retarded Children and the New York State Jaycees cosponsored a seminar on Mental Retardation Saturday in Syracuse.

The seminar is the first of many that will take place throughout the State since the New York Jaycees have taken on the project of Mental Retardation. Attending from Kingston were Ed Crosby and Mike Stupack, officers of the Ulster County, Association for Retarded Children which is a member agency of Community Chest.

The Onondaga County Chapter, American Red Cross, and Syracuse Jaycees welcomed both groups that were well attended from all areas of the State. Joseph T. Weingold, Executive Director, NY State ARC, outlined the topic of "Mental Retardation and the Role of the Association for Retarded Children." He defined the person afflicted with mental retardation as one who has never had the mental capacity to live a normal life as opposed to mental illness where in a person had it, has lost it and tries to regain it again. Weingold stated that much progress has been made in the areas of mental retardation during the past 10 years, however, a lot more must be done. It will be through the efforts of all local Jaycees Chapters in lending assistance to the 42 Chapters of ARC in the State for meeting the needs of retarded children.

Thomas Palumbo, Chairman, Mental Retardation Project, NYS Jaycees, spoke on "Mental Retardation and the Role of the Jaycees." Palumbo, of the Valley Chapter Jaycees and teacher for mental retarded children, emphasized the importance of this project as not being of short duration. He stressed the need for each local Jaycee Chapter call on the ARC organization for setting up long range project plans.

Dr. Alan D. Miller, Commissioner of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene, spoke on "Mental Retardation and the Role of the State." He said it was the responsibility of the State to assure that the needs of retarded children are provided. These needs cannot be provided by the State alone, both through local social organizations such as ARC and Jaycees.

File entitled "Selling One Guy named Larry," depicting the successful employment of mentally retarded throughout the country, will later be shown to all ARC and Jaycees Chapters throughout the State.

In answer to questions raised by Jaycees as to the type of projects that could be undertaken, the need for educational programs within the Jaycees was expressed. The Jaycees will then be able to disseminate this information throughout the community. They will be able to appeal to the local government and board of supervisors for financial aid in assisting the ARC organizations in carrying out programs for retarded children. The need for sheltered work shops for mentally retarded over 21 years now exists and will increase in the future.

Extensive plans are being made by State officials from both ARC and Jaycees organizations to visit local area to review long range projects for mental retardation.

Motorcycle Hits Tree

While riding his 1965 motorcycle on a dirt trail west of Route 209 about two miles north of night, Charles Auchmoody, 17, Rosendale, was injured when the vehicle hit a tree. Sunday afternoon at 7:30 p. m. a motorcycle hit a tree. Ellenville troopers said the youth was taken to Benedictine Hospital and treated for a possible fracture of the collarbone and facial contusions. The motorcycle was traveling west when the wheels hit a tin can and then the tree.

Wooden Span Collapses

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A 70-year-old wooden bridge northeast of here collapsed into the Black River today under the weight of a tractor-trailer laden with 3,600 pounds of salt. State Police said the driver of the truck was taken to Mercy Hospital in Watertown for treatment.

The 100-foot-long bridge crosses the river on a rural road between Camp Drum and the village of Phelps Mills.

Mistrial Declared

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in part of a trial in which voice prints were introduced as prosecution evidence.

Judge Robert Dempsy made the ruling after a Westchester County court jury reported Saturday in the trial of George M. Straehle, a suspended New Rochelle policeman charged with perjury.

The voiceprint, which charts the human voice in map-like pictures called spectrographs, may some day rival the fingerprint as a means of identification, researchers say.

Writer Discovers a Clown Is Not Just a Funny Face

EDITOR'S NOTE — Louise Levitt, an AP reporter, realized a long-time ambition when she spent a day as a clown in the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus. It may be, she says, that the experience was more rewarding to her than to those she made laugh.

By LOUISE LEVITT

NEW YORK (AP) — I put on my baggy pants, smeared my face with greasepaint and practiced making faces before a mirror. I thought I looked funny. Funny and sad.

But I didn't really feel like a clown until the boy, a little boy with laughing eyes and a shy smile, put aside his cotton candy and waved at me with what must have been all his heart.

A Magic Personality

Then, I realized, I was no longer me. I was a clown, and that's a magic personality you can assume only when you believe very, very hard.

"Circuses are like no other entertainment," Jackie Cooper, a dwarf clown, said as we watched the throngs of men, women and children pour into Madison Square Garden. "People are always half-happy before they get here."

Michael Polakovs, a clown named Coco, helped arrange my outfit: droopy checked trousers, a long striped polo shirt and an oversized coat. The big sad eyes were my own.

I was an "August" clown. Coco explained, a clown with flesh-colored makeup. He's supposed to contrast with the "white face" clown, the buffoon of the troupe.

Dizzy With Advice

I became dizzy with advice, words which really didn't take on meaning, I found, until I stepped into that vast arena and blurs became laughing faces. "If you're funny, you're born with it. It's God's gift, and if you find it and you're awfully lucky..."

"You must love children, because if you don't, they know it and pull you apart." Standing in the wings was like standing between two worlds. Back stage, the circus was business. On stage, it was a wonderland made real because the audience wanted to believe it was real.

Then someone pushed into the ring, whispering: "We've got a full house today — 18,000 people."

That didn't help any, and I stumbled, blushed and remembered the blush couldn't be seen. The faces were blurs, stretching off into the vast recesses of the arena like so many trees in a forest.

Then I saw the little boy, only a few feet away. He handed his cotton candy to his mother and waved. I waved back and he laughed.

And suddenly it wasn't so hard. I continued around the great ring, my eyes picking the children's faces from the great blur and watching each smile become a laugh as I waved.

They weren't laughing because of my baggy pants and my goofy makeup. I kept telling myself. They were laughing, and smiling, because I was helping them to believe in a world void of sadness — and they're as sure of that world as they are of peppermint candy and Santa Claus.

Fight Not Over Javits Tells Jews

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has called on the Jewish people to protest the Soviet Union's persecution of Jews, threats against the security of Israel and attempts in the U.S. Senate to delay ratification of the United Nations convention on genocide.

Addressing more than 6,000 persons jammed into Times Square Sunday, Javits called on his fellow Jews to fight for justice throughout the world in the same spirit that the heroes of the Warsaw ghetto uprising used to fight Nazi persecution. He also urged Jews to arouse massive public protest. "What happens to one minority happens to all minorities," he said.

The New York senior senator warned Jews who fought for more liberal immigration laws and civil rights legislation that their own fights are not over. The security of Israel depends on them and Jews throughout the world, he said.

Times Square was renamed Warsaw Ghetto Square for the day. The rally commemorated the 23rd anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., told the rally, sponsored by the Zionist Organization of America and 35 national and metropolitan Jewish organizations, that the Warsaw Ghetto fighters "died for all Jews."

"They set us the example of great faith — a faith that we might well follow. Let us never forget that," he said.

FIRST CAMPERS—Minford Overfield, vice-chairman of camp committee, presents YMCA Day Camp tee shirts to Julie Bermant and Brian Hampshire, first girl and boy campers to sign for the 1966 season which opens in Shokan on Monday, June 27. YMCA Will Open Camp on June 27

G. Herbert DeKay, chairman of the YMCA Day Camp Committee announced today that the YMCA Day Camp in Shokan will open for the 1966 season Monday, June 27 with four two week sessions and a single period of one week, August 22 to Aug. 26. DeKay explained the two-week camp periods will help campers to have a better camp experience with improved programming. The extra week was added for those new campers who desire a one week trial camp experience.

Some of the improvements in camp for this coming season will be the enlarging of the sandy beach, new archery targets and back stop, enclosed village cabins and rifle range for campers 11 years old and over. Kingston YMCA camp is owned and operated by the Kingston YMCA. The camp is 18 miles from Kingston 1,300 feet above sea level at the foot of Tietanyk Mountain at Shokan. Last season 360 different boys and girls from 21 towns attended camp.

The YMCA is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Dr. Vernon Link Addresses Ulster Social Agencies Unit

Dr. Vernon B. Link, Ulster County Commissioner of Health, was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Lawrence Siewers announced that the Homemaker Committee has been meeting with Miss Helen Jones of the State Department of Health and Bernhard S. Kramer, district director of the Office of Economic Opportunity seeking funds available to the program under the federal Anti-Poverty Program.

Mrs. Diana Gieger extended an invitation to the members of the council to the annual meeting of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health at the Governor Clinton Hotel, April 27. The program for this meeting will be "Expanding Mental Health Services in Ulster County." Speakers will be Dr. Emeline Place Hayward, director of the Ulster County Mental Health Center, and Ruth Laverty community mental health representative, New York State Department of Mental Hygiene.

Aldrich to Speak
Alexander Aldrich, campaigning for the Republican Party nomination to run for Congressman in the 28th Congressional District, will be the guest speaker at a business meeting in May. Aldrich will speak on "State Action on Social, Recreational and Health Problems."

Bishop Gains Post
Marshall E. Bishop, 250 Washington Avenue, was named secretary of the Mid-Hudson Science Advisory Council at a recent meeting of the executive committee at the Treasure Chest Restaurant, Poughkeepsie. Robert C. Foughy, Poughkeepsie, was re-elected chairman of the council. Bishop is a mechanical engineer at IBM.

announced that there will be a meeting of the Executive Committee April 26. He urged all members to attend.

The annual meeting of the Council of Social Agencies will take place June 14 with a picnic lunch at the YMCA Day Camp, Shokan.

Dr. Link noted that the Ulster County Health Department services an area of 1,143 square miles with a population of over 130,000 on an annual budget of about $340,000.

Salaries Major Part
Much of the budget goes for salaries for department personnel which includes: one physician, one dentist, one physiotherapist, two engineers, 13 nurses, one veterinarian, one dental hygienist, one general disease investigator, six sanitary inspectors and 11 clerical employees. In addition, 10 temporary inspectors are employed during the summer when resorts and camps add about 65,000 people to the permanent population.

The department conducts some 50 immunization clinics per year which protect about 1,500 children against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox and polio. They hold 12 orthopedic clinics each year which treat about 500 persons and operate about 150 child health conferences which administer to some 600 well babies.

Veterinarian, Engineers Active
The veterinarian supervises the production of milk and health of cows and also administers to about 800 people a year who are bitten by dogs and other animals.

The engineers are responsible for food served in 648 restaurants, for the water supply, sewage treatment, refuse disposal for 75 school buildings, farm labor camps and for treating of air and stream pollution. In carrying out these activities the engineer and his assistants make some 15,000 sanitation visits each year.

A question and answer session followed Dr. Link's talk.

Niagara Gas BlastRuins Home, Injures 6

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Six persons, including two children, were injured in a gas explosion and fire that wrecked a portion of one house and damaged two adjoining homes on the city's east side.

None of the injured were hurt seriously.

The explosion and fire occurred Saturday in a front, first-floor apartment of a 2½-story frame dwelling owned by James London, 51.

Fire officials estimated damage to the three houses at $21,500.

The blast "definitely was a gas explosion, but we don't know what caused the leak," said Albert McFayden, Fire Prevention Bureau chief.

McFayden said earlier that London struck a match while trying to find the source of escaping gas. London, who also occupies one of the apartments in the house, later denied lighting a match.

The blast blew the front of the London house into the street and caused the walls to bulge.

Houses on either side of the dwelling were damaged by fire.

The injured were London, Leon King, 19, and his wife, Beverly, 17; Mrs. Betty Barber, 35, and two children who lived next door, Diane Nicholson, 7, and her sister, Betty, 9. The Kings of Niagara Falls and the Nicholson children were visiting Mrs. Barber, who occupies an apartment in the house where the explosion occurred.

All were treated at hospitals and later released, except Mrs. Barber. She suffered facial burns and was reported in fair condition in Niagara Falls Memorial Hospital.

The house is at 2427 E. Falls St. about two miles from the American Falls.

Road Amundsen finally reached the south pole on Dec. 14, 1911.

SAFETY CHECK AT THRUWAY—Trained inspection teams last week checked vehicles at entry points of the State Thruway in a continuing effort to keep unsafe vehicles off the 599-mile superhighway. The team above checks a vehicle entering Kingston toll station. They are (l-r) Patrick T. O'Connor, assistant Division of Traffic superintendent of Albany, a former

State Police sergeant; James P. Butler, investigator of headquarters staff, and Ward C. Bury, traffic superintendent, also a former State Trooper. In less than a minute the team inspects the tires, headlights, taillights, brake lights, directional signals, horn and windshield wipers. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Recover's Girl's Body

SKANEATELES, N.Y. (AP)

The body of a 13-year-old girl was recovered from Skaneateles Lake Friday, four days after she and two teen-age boys were reported missing after a canoe trip.

Betsy Loftus of Skaneateles was found by divers at a spot nearly 60 feet deep.

The search continued today for Donald Cain of Skaneateles and Russell Cayer of Marcellus, both 14.

Betsy and the two boys were last seen Monday in a canoe near the Skaneateles Country Club, on the lake's west shore.

The canoe was found Monday night near the east shore.

Esopus Board Lists Problems Of Old Cars, Chicken Manure

Two persistent continuing problems, automobile "junkies" and the manure disposal of a St. Remy chicken farm operation, again were the chief topics of discussion at last week's meeting of the Esopus Town Board, held at the Town Hall, Port Jervis.

The disposal of old automobiles is a particularly pressing problem for every municipality. Improvements in the steel making industry have brought about a marked lowering in the use of scrap. This, in turn, has so depressed the scrap market that old automobiles are virtually worthless. With nearly six million automobiles being junked yearly, the disposal of them has become a prime problem to every city, town and village in the country.

Has Ordinance
The Town of Esopus has had an automobile junkyard ordinance since 1954. The problem in Esopus, however, is one that is caused primarily by "part time junkies" who either break up a few automobiles and sell the parts or accept an old car for a few dollars and place it on their property.

The problem in the Town of Esopus is accentuated by the fact that the township does not have a Town Dump or public refuse area where violators of the ordinance can be forced to take old vehicles. At the meeting, a discussion was held on the merits of immediately acquiring a dump site and placing a dump in operation. The Town Planning Board had previously suggested seven different sites as potential dump locations.

The problem is particularly acute in the Hudson Center area. Several Union Center residents were present and strongly voiced their opinions as to the Board's apparent lack of action in dealing with the problem. Justice of the Peace Allan S. Dargie pointed out one property that had been cleaned up due to the Board's actions and outlined the legal problems involved in the enforcement of the Town's ordinance which makes ultimate action a slow process.

Several other problem areas were brought to the Board's attention and it was stated action would be taken on them. Areas mentioned included those off Canal Street, one west of Route 9W opposite the cemetery, and a lot on Tilden Street, all in Port Jervis, and another property on First Street, Connelly.

Conflicting Views
The chicken manure disposal problem for the most part centered on the conflicting views of two attorneys as to the applicability of the Town's dumping ordinance in dealing with manure disposal. The problem stems from the disposal of liquid chicken manure emanating from an automated, 45,000 bird chicken farm, adjacent to the Spring Valley Acres Development, east of St. Remy.

Attorney for the Town Charles H. Gaffney had advised the Board by letter that the Town's dumping ordinance was not applicable as a control device in the manure disposal problem as the manure was considered to be a fertilizing agent. Attorney John J. Schick, retained by a group of citizens of the Spring Valley Acres development, on the other hand maintained in a letter that the manure when spread in inordinate quantities on a relatively small area could no longer be considered fertilizer, but instead was a waste and as such properly came under the provisions of the Town dumping ordinance.

At the present time, Town Boards are specifically prohibited from enacting ordinances regulating the keeping of fowls. Attorney Gaffney further maintained that applying the dumping ordinance in the manure disposal problem would be attempting to do indirectly what a Town Board is prohibited from doing directly.

Although there was considerable disagreement among those present to when chicken manure was fertilizer and when it was a waste, there was grudging general agreement that the problem was a health one and that, at present at least, the Board of Health had no jurisdiction than anyone over the problem.

A letter was read from Rear Admiral I. J. Stephens, commander of the Third Coast Guard District, stating the Coast Guard's reasons for planning to raze the Esopus Meadows Lighthouse and erect a steel, pole-type, beacon.

Supervisor Roger W. Mable had written to Admiral Stephens urging that the lighthouse be preserved. Admiral Stephens did, however, delay the time planned for razing the present structure until at least mid-summer so that if a group is to be organized to preserve the lighthouse they will have time to organize and present a proposal to the Coast Guard.

Supervisor Mable reported on a meeting held with officials of Rondout Marine, Inc., the former Hildebrandt shipyard, at Connelly, together with Town Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier and County Highway Superintendent George Fitchner on an alleged water drainage problem at the yard. The yard maintains that the water run-off from town and county streets is damaging the yard and buildings. The County highway engineering department is making a study of the problem.

A report from the Commissioners of the Port Jervis Water District indicated that the average daily usage of the system users during March had been 186,230 gallons. It was also reported that 46 Connelly residents were now using water from the new main extension recently installed in that hamlet.

John Spinnenweber, president of the Spinnenweber Construction Co., the contractor making the Connelly main installation, reported he plans to resume work on the project next week and is expected to finish the installation in about 30 days.

The assessors reported that representatives of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment had recently been in the Township and made appraisals of 15 properties picked at random. This practice is followed periodically by the state appraisers. The purpose is to compare their appraisal with those of the town assessors and to use the results as an aid in determining the Town's equalization rate.

Ross Park Commissioners reported that the winter program of organized recreation held at the Port Jervis School gymnasium and the series of free moving pictures at the Town Hall were concluded at the end of March. A list was submitted to the Town Board listing the new playground equipment the commissioners plan to purchase and install at the park for the coming summer. Martin Oberkirch was authorized to make repairs to the Park baseball backstop.

It was reported that the State Board of Health had completed their examination of the comprehensive sewage study of the Town of Esopus undertaken by Brinnier and Larios, Kingston professional engineers. The report is now being modified to meet with the state suggestions and when these are completed and approved by the State Board of Health, the results of the study will be made public.

Nickerson Expects Nod From Dems.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gubernatorial candidate Eugene Nickerson estimates that if the Democratic nominating convention were held today, about 350 first ballot votes would go to him.

The Nassau County executive said that puts him more than halfway toward his goal, since 573 votes are needed to win.

"I fully expect to be nominated," Nickerson said Sunday night on the WINS radio "News Conference" program.

He said he has sensed support from both regular and reform Democratic clubs during his travels throughout the state, but emphasized he "has not asked for any commitments" from delegates.

Allegheny Would Remove Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Removal of restrictions on its non-stop service between major Northeastern cities was sought today by Allegheny Airlines.

Company officials, in testimony for the New York-Florida renewal case now before a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner, said removal of barriers to unrestricted flight would enable the carrier to provide faster and cheaper commuter service between:

Baltimore — New York, Baltimore — Boston, Washington — Hartford, Springfield, Philadelphia — Boston and Boston — Washington.

New Cuban Radio Heard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban underground sources report a powerful radio station has begun broadcasting from a three-story subterranean Cuban military command post.

The reports, made public by the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, said the installation, at Bejucal, near Havana, was constructed by the Soviet Union and has reinforced concrete and a steel frame as air attack protection.

The committee, an American anti-Castro group, said the radio's principal function may be "to maintain clandestine contact with guerrilla groups in Latin America."

Miners Returning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thousands of miners return to work today as negotiations resume to end the nation's largest soft coal strike in 15 years.

More than 50,000 men were idled for the past week while the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association remained at odds in Washington over a new contract. An estimated 19,000 were still off the job today.

Dear Abby . . .Birth Control Pills—Pro and Con

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If a 16-year-old girl asked me to give her birth control pills, knowing that I was a "trusted" friend of her parents, I would be damned if I did and damned if I didn't. I would feel compelled to give her the pills, fearing that if I turned her away and she became pregnant, I would be responsible for either (a) an illegitimate baby, (b) a forced marriage, which is usually a miserable one, or heaven forbid, (c) a botched abortion. I would feel morally obligated to prevent any of the above mentioned tragedies if possible. Please withhold my name, although I am seriously tempted to ask you to print it with a request that no minor girls come to my office for birth control pills.

BEVERLY HILLS, M.D., OB. and GYN.

DEAR ABBY: At a recent medical meeting some doctors said they would not hesitate to give "the pill" and contraceptive advice to any girl capable of becoming pregnant, regardless of parental knowledge or consent. Others said they would give it without parental consent IF the family minister substituted for the parent. A spokesman for planned parenthood said that organization refuses contraceptive advice to any individual under 21 without the knowledge and consent of his parents or legal guardian. I personally have provided minors (both male and female) with contraceptives, but only after lecturing them extensively on the danger of venereal disease as well as the psychosexual hazards of promiscuity. I admit no regrets.

A FAMILY DOCTOR FOR 33 YEARS

DEAR ABBY: Speaking as a physician who respects to the letter the ethics of his profession, I should feel duty-bound to report to the parents all that their daughter, a minor in the eyes of the law, had confided in me. But speaking as a father of a teenage girl, I would thank God that my child had the good sense to seek the advice and help of a trusted family friend and physician since she couldn't bring herself to come to her mother or me.

A BALTIMORE M.D.

DEAR ABBY: About whether the doctor should tell the mother that her young daughter had asked him for birth control pills: What for? If the mother was the kind a daughter could talk to, the kid wouldn't have gone to the doctor on the sneak in the first place. I wasn't so lucky. I didn't have a mother to go to, and I didn't know a doctor who would see me. I had to face disgrace all alone when I was 15. You can't change human nature. I say they should pass out the pills free to anybody who wants them.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: Far as I'm concerned, you, Dear Abby, AND the Madison M.D. both missed the point. I would not prescribe birth control pills to an unmarried 16-year-old girl, neither would I prescribe them to a married woman for the simple reason that I think they are still in the experimental stages. No patient of mine will ever be a guinea pig if I can help it.

DAYTON, OHIO, M.D.

DEAR ABBY: As a physician and psychiatrist, may I comment in answer to MADISON, M.D.: The girl who requested the pills, may really not want them, but rather may be craving for the friendship and advice of someone she can trust. Her confidence should certainly be respected, as few parents are able to sympathetically counsel their teenage children.

DEAR ABBY: Why are you polling DOCTORS on whether a 16-year-old girl should be given contraceptive devices and information without the knowledge and consent of her parents? It is clearly a LEGAL question. And the answer is an unequivocal NO!

ATTORNEY AT LAW, MPLS.

GI's Invade Singapore For Rest, Recreation

SINGAPORE (AP) — U. S. troops have landed in another Asian land, on a peaceful mission.

Some officials were concerned that the Communists might kick up demonstrations, but none has occurred.

Once Singapore's Premier Lee Kuan Yew condemned U.S. intervention, not only in South Viet Nam but in the whole of Southeast Asia. Last week, referring to the Viet Nam war, he said: "It is a crime against humanity. But to say who is committing the crime would be taking sides."

So far the program has hardly caused a ripple in this island state, which has the largest British garrison east of Suez.

The GI's arrive quietly in civilian clothes by commercial airliner and are hardly distinguishable from other Western tourists or residents in Singapore.

U.S. officials added Singapore to the list of rest and recreation centers for American forces in Viet Nam because the American troop build-up has taxed facil-

Home Builders to Meet

Civilian defense and its applications to the homebuilding industry will be the program subject of the April meeting of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley, Tuesday 7 p. m. at the Holiday Inn, Route 9, Fishkill.

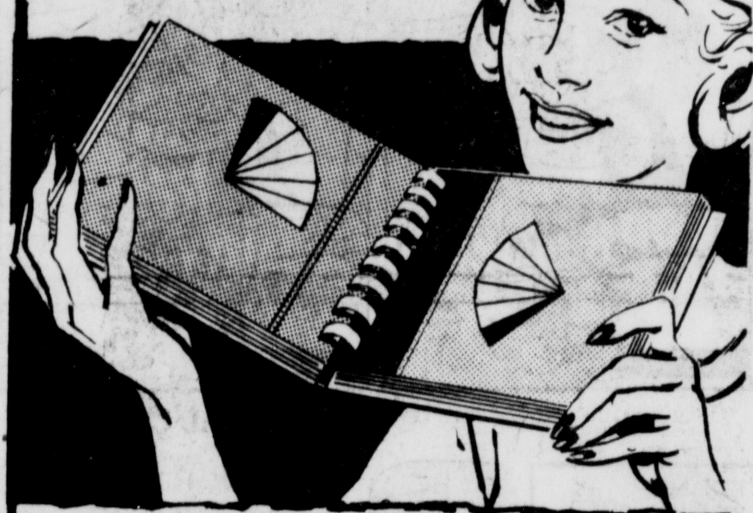

The program will be jointly presented by two members of the New York State Civil Defense Commission Staff, Jerry D. Horton and Joseph E. Hayes. It is also expected that a report on the annual dinner dance at the Holiday Inn, May will be made by chairman Anthony Gallo.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Friday, April 29, will be Arbor and Wildlife Day in New York State, by proclamation of the state education commissioner.

Dr. James E. Allen asked the people today to focus attention on the need for conserving pure air. "necessary for all life."

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN T. CUNIFF Ap Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In his economic message early this year President Johnson called stability of costs and prices "perhaps our most serious economic challenge in 1966." He told Congress that "only if inflation can be avoided will prosperity be sustainable."

The weapons that could be used to challenge this threat to national prosperity include monetary restraints (on the availability of money and credit) and fiscal measures (government taxing and spending).

The Johnson administration is placing heavy reliance on another weapon: guideposts, or standards that tie wage and price increases to the average annual increase in productivity.

The chief defense of guideposts, then, is that they help fight a patriotic battle for national prosperity. Inflation robs individuals of fixed incomes, such as the retired. It makes American goods less competitive.

Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel and a critic of guideposts, admits they can have some anti-inflation value. "There is no doubt," he said, "that for a limited period they can and do hold down the lid on prices."

The administration also can argue that guidelines actually represent restraint, that they are an implement of moderation at a time when some economists have suggested rigid anti-inflation controls.

The guideposts also have virtues that more rigid sanctions might lack. The Council of Economic Advisers can apply these standards directly and quickly. They can enforce them by means ranging from persuasion to power. Amid a sometimes cumbersome bureaucracy of hazy terminology, guideposts are agile, direct and to the point.

The guideposts also can be defended for their educational value in providing both sides of the business-labor bargaining table with an understanding of the needs of a noninflationary economy.

They have a publicity value — even when not applied — that serves to subdue the urge of manufacturers and workers to attempt inflationary price or wage increases.

Despite the fact that guideposts were never legislated, the Administration does have legal responsibility for sustaining a non-inflationary economy.

This responsibility comes from the Employment Act of 1946 which established the federal responsibility for determining targets and policies for "maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

Guideposts are an implement of this responsibility.

The act itself is perhaps a reflection of the great economic experimentation that has occurred in recent decades, much of it from the works of John Maynard Keynes, a British economist, who in the 1930s advocated the use of government spending and taxing to manage the economy.

Concurrent with the so-called new economics has come a great sense of national goals, chief of which is economic security for everyone.

Writing earlier this year, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor said that the spirit of 1920 might have produced the slogan "The business of America is business," but that now it might be rewritten to, "The business of America is America."

In the end, the strongest argument that can be offered now for guideposts is that they are meant to assure a continuation of six years of unprecedented prosperity.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, April 18, the 108th day of 1966. There are 257 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, Paul Revere made his famous ride from Charlestown to Lexington to warn the colonists of the approach of British troops from Boston.

On this date

In 1942, 16 American B2's, led by Lt. Gen. James Doolittle, attacked Tokyo and other Japanese cities in the first effort to bring the war to the Japanese homeland.

Ten years ago—Grace Kelly, movie star and native of Philadelphia, became the bride of Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

Five years ago—Premier Nikita Khrushchev charged that the Bay of pigs invaders of Cuba had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States and he said Russia would help Cuba in beating back the armed attack.

One year ago — One student was fatally injured, several hundred policemen and demonstrators were hurt and more than 1,500 arrested in riots in South Korea.

No Simple Solutions

U.S. Policy Toward China Will Remain Unchanged

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For weeks and months the Johnson administration has listened to all kinds of opinions on how to handle Red China and now it has given its answer: the basic policy will remain tough and unchanged.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk took up a whole page of newspaper type to say that. This is the policy as he stated it: So long as China tries aggression, in Asia or elsewhere, the United States will try to stop it.

If Red China abandons the belief force is the best way to solve disputes, and gives up its violent strategy of world revolution, this country would welcome an era of good relations.

No Hope of Change
Rusk made it clear enough he sees no hope of change in the bellicose thinking of Red China so long as the present leaders are alive. Therefore, his hopes are on their successors, and not necessarily in their immediate successors.

He put it this way: "I do not predict any quick changes in China. Nor are there simple solutions. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making... "We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders. They are products of their entire lives. They seem to be immune to agreement or persuasion by anyone, including their own allies."

Then Rusk laid down a 10-point American policy for dealing with Red China.

All this was said and done in testimony a month ago before the Far East subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in closed session. His testimony was made public over the weekend.

No Soft Position
There was some reasonableness but no softness in the position Rusk took.

"If Peking reaps success from its current policies, not only its present leaders but those who follow will be emboldened to follow them. This is the path to increased tension, and even greater dangers to world peace in the years ahead," Rusk said.

This was an answer to anyone advocating a softer line toward Red China but it did not close the door on efforts to establish some kind of relationship which did not involve Red China's political or territorial ambitions. For example, among his 10

St. John, Ulster County Chairman for the Aldrich campaign, and Robert Hill, vice-chairman of the Republican City Committee. Aldrich, who came to Thursday night's meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel from a sick bed so as not to disappoint over 40 city and county Republican leaders of his campaign, was forced by his physician's orders to cancel an appearance in Ellenville with the Wawarsing Republican Women's Club. He was represented in Ellenville by his wife, Elizabeth. (H. Pete Powell photo)

High Court Is Asked To Uphold Voting Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department asks the Supreme Court today to uphold a provision of the 1965 voting rights law designed to permit Puerto Ricans to vote on the basis of literacy in Spanish.

And, in a companion case which may not be heard until Tuesday, a New York woman who was born in Puerto Rico is asking the court to declare unconstitutional discriminatory New York state's 44-year-old requirement that voters be literate in English.

Almost a million Puerto Ricans live in the continental United States, about 700,000 of them in New York City. Of these 700,000 about half read and write only Spanish.

The conflict between the federal and state laws has resulted in confusion heightened by contradictory lower court rulings, and U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall asked the justices for an early decision so the New York primary June 21 "will not be embarrassed by doubts."

Journalists, Government Must Clash, Says AP Head

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — will subscribe to the governmental view," he continued, "so the journalist of today, as the journalist of yesterday, must accept the risk of unpopularity if he is to do his job right."

"As the task facing society becomes bigger, so does the control of government. And as the government becomes bigger, so does its control over the people—and this leads to the government's clash with the journalist."

The journalist "has as much to contribute to society as the scientist, the doctor, the dedicated public figure, the researcher," he asserted.

Early Traffic Jam
FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — The new bridge was made impassable by a traffic jam before it was even officially dedicated.

Officials opened the new Braga Memorial Bridge across the Taunton River, then piled into cars for the ceremonial drive across. An antique auto at the head of the parade stalled at an approach, delaying the motorcade for about 15 minutes.

HINTS FROM Heloise

FROM HELOISE'S SEWING BASKET

You know all those buttons we rip off stuff before we discard it? And you know that old sewing box you have with cards and cards of buttons in it? Those cardboard take up space . . . Well, let me tell you what to do.

I cleaned out my sewing box the other day, and the best thing I have ever found (and the least expensive yet) is those plastic sandwich bags.

When you clean out your sewing box the next time and you're watching TV, put that box of plastic sandwich bags in your lap and your sewing box on your knees. Then weed out that button box.

Throw all the buttons of different types into separate bags, twist the tops shut or fold them over neatly and fasten with rubber bands.

You'll have the neatest sewing box ever. Furthermore, you will be able to see, at a glance, what color, size and type of button you want.

Dear Heloise: I've finally found a way to stuff a turkey, or any fowl, without having a slippery, sliding battle with the critter!

I get out a big mixing bowl and upend the bird (neck-end down) in the bowl, then proceed to stuff it.

Works wonderfully and is far faster, easier and less messy than other methods I have tried.

..... Charlene Black

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise: May your house always be too small to hold all of your friends.

..... George

Dear Heloise: My dad, an 89-year-old Spanish American War veteran, is using a walker which the local American Legion was kind enough to lend to us.

Someone had wrapped a piece of very soft plastic foam around the walker bar where you hold it, and secured that with strips of plastic tape.

Cycle Injuries Fatal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A motorcycle accident last Tuesday has taken the life of a 23-year-old resident of Collins, south of Buffalo.

John Dittman, died Sunday in Buffalo General Hospital of injuries suffered when his motorcycle missed a curve on Route 39 west of Gowanda and landed in a ditch.

It makes a comfortable, easily-grasped way to grip the walker and is so much softer and easier on the hands than the uncovered bar.

..... Rella Royer

Dear Heloise: My husband is in construction work, and his jobs frequently take him away from home so he has to live out of a suitcase.

He complained of never being able to find clean handkerchiefs under all the things he piles in the bag.

Now, I put a clean handkerchief in a pocket of each pair of trousers as I iron them, and he always has one available when needed.

..... Mrs. Moore

Dear Heloise: Here is a helpful hint for women who hate to wash floors because of the messy strings that come out of mops:

Tie a knot on the end of each individual string while watching TV.

Children love to knot them! Patricia Duplease

Dear Heloise: I open both ends of the plastic onion bags, split them down one side, and gather them with heavy thread to form a ball like the plastic pot scratchers you buy.

I use one for a scratcher, and placed one on my teen-ager's vanity for a hair roller stick pin holder.

Keeps the vanity neat, and makes the stick pins easy to get at.

..... Faithful Reader

Dear Heloise: Being the mother of two retarded children, I found a way to hold up a diaper on a child who walks long before he can be trained.

I use small suspenders that clamp on, putting them under the top shirt, but over the undershirt (so the suspenders won't cut into the shoulders). I clamp them on the diaper where the safety pins would ordinarily be used.

This way the diaper stays in place and doesn't drop down, which would make it hard for the child to walk.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer reader's questions in her column whenever possible.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received an interesting brochure from Mrs. Rita Rosner, of The Oasis of Partition Street, Saugerties, who writes in part: "We thought page 3 might interest you. Constant Reader, Mrs. Rita Rosner." It is the Franklin News, Spring Vol. XLIII Number 2, 1966 number, published quarterly by the Franklin Society Federal Savings and Loan Association of 217 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Its some 10 pages and front cover shows the "Romantic Hudson Valley."

Its editor, Lafollette Becker shows the Bear Mountain Bridge span across the Hudson on the front cover. This is considered one of the Hudson's narrowest points. They show a beautiful scenery of the Hudson Valley has long inspired artists, poets and writers. In their "Let's Visit" article they write that the Hudson is only 320 miles from its source, Lake Tear of the Clouds, on the slopes of Mt. Marcy in upstate New York, to the ocean. Its the "ave inspiring Palisades" which rise some 500 feet above the river, like ramparts, then further north, are the mountains, like Storm King, Dunderberg, High Tor, Crow's Nest, the Hudson Highlands, the smokey blue Catskills, and the Adirondacks, all add to the panorama of one of the world's most magnificent and talked about river, our Hudson.

He writes about the "Hudson River School" of artists, like Cole, Bierstadt, Durant, Church and Brown, and there is a reproduction of a painting by Brown, painted in 1867 called "View of Palisades." He further writes: "The Hudson Valley is rich in houses which trace the valley's history over the past 300 years. Simple Dutch farmhouses, the mansions of the 19th century millionaires and homes of Presidents, stand side by side with modern suburban homes throughout the valley."

We no longer have the pleasure of being able to go on the Hudson on the Dayline steamers from Kingston Point Park as we did years ago, and see these mansions and homes on both sides of the Hudson. He describes one of the most spectacularly homes at Tarrytown, Lyndhurst, a recent gift to the National Trust for Historic Preservation by Anna, Duchess of Talleyrand, the last private owner. The Duchess was Jay Gould's daughter, who purchased the estate in 1880.

The author further writes that just south of Lyndhurst is the famous home of author Washington Irving, Sunnyside. Irving wrote about the Hudson Valley, and his "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "Rip Van Winkle" are now part of the folklore of the valley. Irving bought a small Dutch farmhouse in 1835 and began to remodel it into a "little old fashioned stone mansion, all made up of gable ends, and as full of angles and corners as an old cocked hat." He further described his home as "an elegant snugery" and here he wrote many of his stories.

This little booklet covers Van Cortlandt Manor, Sunnyside and Philipsburgh Manor which are all administered by Sleepy Hollow Restorations, a non-profit organization. It seems, the restorations, which span some three centuries of life in the Hudson Valley were made possible through the efforts of John D. Rockefeller Jr. They also go further up the river and write about Franklin D. Roosevelt's home, Springwood, kept just as he last saw it, the Roosevelt Library, and the Vanderbilt Mansion, all at Hyde Park.

They even mention in this New York City brochure that Kingston is of interest to visit, as New York State's first capital, and nearby Hurley because its streets are still lined with 18th century Dutch homes. Kingston too, had many historic stone houses, The Dewart Tavern was recently taken down for a parking lot on North Front Street.

Car Overturns, Cited

Frank McDermott, 26, of Vandergift, Pa., was cited by Ellenville State Police on a charge of driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent, after his car overturned on Route 52 about six miles east of the Village of Ellenville. Troopers said McDermott was driving his 1963 car east and negotiating a right curve when the vehicle skidded into the westbound lane and overturned on its top. The mishap occurred at 4:10 p. m. Saturday.

Hurleyville Woman Killed

LOCH SHELDRAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Nettie Fleisher, 67, of Hurleyville, was killed Sunday when struck by a truck as she crossed Route 52, police reported.

Names in The News

Film Stars Married

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film stars George Peppard and Elizabeth Ashley were married Sunday at the Bel-Air Hotel.

Peppard, 33, and Miss Ashley, 24, met during the filming of "The Carpetbaggers." Miss Ashley previously starred on Broadway in "Barefoot in the Park" and "Take Her, She's Mine."

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Shaffer of the Church of the Divine Truth, Los Angeles.

Cardinal to Keep Going

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, who will be 77 May 4, said Sunday he felt "a bit worn out" but promised to "keep going as long as I can." The cardinal spoke at a communion breakfast launching the archdiocese's 47th annual Catholic charities drive, which seeks $3.7 million to aid needy people.

Khrushchev's Birthday

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev was 72 years old Sunday. The former Soviet premier and Communist party leader, who was unseated in October 1964, was believed to have spent the day with his family at a country home near Moscow.

There was no mention of the birthday in the Soviet press.

Falls 30 Feet, Unhurt

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Anton Dos Santos, Spanish high wire performer, fell 30 feet at the Shrine Circus Saturday night.

About 11,000 persons screamed as Dos Santos hit the wire on his side during a somersault and fell to the concrete arena. Dos Santos was pronounced unhurt at a hospital.

Electricians Set Up Picket Lines At Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Members of the International Union of Electrical Workers set up picket lines at all five entrances to this space center today, and early checks showed some construction workers were honoring them. Except for some construction work on the Merritt Island moonport, the strike was not expected to affect activity here. Most members of other industrial unions appeared to be ignoring the lines, which are the result of a wage dispute with United Technology Center (UTC).

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Air Force hoped to have figures on the number of absentee workers later in the day. The strikers are members of Local 1201 of the Electricians Union, which has its headquarters at the Coyote, Calif., plant of UTC, a division of United Aircraft Corp.

About 225 electricians at the California plant and 52 at Cape Kennedy voted to strike Saturday. The Cape members work on the solid-fuel booster rockets for the Air Force Titan 3 space rocket.

The electricians here receive a pay of $3.93 an hour. They seek a 15-cent an hour raise, plus a 30-cent "field rate" for working at the site.

Satellites for Census

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Space scientist Dr. Werner von Braun says satellites may be used to count noses as well as radiation and other more complicated things in the future.

Speaking to the League of Municipalities convention Sunday night, Von Braun said satellites also could be used to spot crop diseases and aid in water management. He said the satellites would use man's habitations, recreational areas and industrial projects to determine population

Workers Needed In Blind Program Of Columbiettes

Columbiettes of Saugerties Council 4536 now have their own unit (Unit 14) in the Transcription for the Blind Program. Anyone wishing to assist in this work by illustrating, typing or proof reading should contact chairman Lillian Conte.

Several of the Columbiettes recently spent a day in White Plains at a workshop for this program. Over 90,000 pages have been completed and there is still a great need for many more books. Listening to letters of parents and children who have used these books makes one realize how worthwhile this work is, says the chairman.

Pauline Wolfe, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers at the April meeting: president, Eva Sweeney; vice-president, Lucille Nau; recording secretary, Evelyn Carlson; corresponding secretary, Isabelle Gambino; financial secretary, Sylvia McKenny; inner guard, Pauline Wolfe; outer guard, Mae Bretscher; trustees, Jeanette Curry, Lillian Conte and Marie Sheehan.

Hudson Valley delegates nominated were Elsie Wey, Lucille Nau, Jeanette Curry, Lorraine Wagner and Mary Campochiaro. Alternates were Lillian Conte, Betty Lynch, Mary Riccio, Mary Pietkiewicz and Gerry Ruddy.

Named for the State Convention were Eva Sweeney and Elsie Wey, with alternates, Betty Lynch and Gerry Ruddy.

Voting will take place at the May meeting at which time nominations may be made from the floor.

Set Glasco Assembly

The annual Columbiettes Assembly for the Columbiettes of Saugerties Council will be held at the 8 p. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church, Glasco on May 29.

A Chapter Corporate Communion breakfast will be held at the Hotel Lafayette in Suffern on April 30.

Reservations may be made with Elsie Wey.

Charge Cornell Prof

After Demonstrations

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A Cornell University instructor faced court action today on a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with demonstrations against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war.

The demonstrations were climaxed Saturday afternoon when about 350 persons marched from the Cornell University campus to a rally in DeWitt Park.

The march and rally followed sporadic demonstrations Friday that included the arrest of the instructor, Robert Greenblatt, 27, who later was released in $25 bail.

Meanwhile, about 4,500 peace marchers formed a ring around Times Square in New York City Saturday in a similar demonstration sponsored by the Fifth Avenue Viet Nam Peace Parade Committee.

Exile's Home Bombed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The second unexplained bombing of a Cuban exile's home in as many weeks exploded on the fifth anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion.

No one was injured Sunday when a bomb demolished one car, damaged another and shattered windows outside the home of the brother of a former Cuban president.

Antonio Prio Socarras, former Cuban finance minister, was asleep when the blast occurred. Prio, 61, is the brother of former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who was ousted in 1950 by Fulgencio Batista.

World News in Brief

Better in England

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Thirty-six natives of Tristan da Cunha have decided that life is better in Britain than on their lonely island in the South Atlantic.

Eight families of islanders sailed on the liner Cape Town Castle Sunday seeking better opportunities for work and better schooling for their children. Their departure left about 200 persons on the rocky island far out in the Atlantic.

Soviets Demote China

MOSCOW (AP)—The West gets friendlier greetings and Red China is demoted in Soviet Union's new May Day slogans, which are watched each year for signs of policy change.

Britain, France and the United States, formerly lumped together in a single slogan, got separate greetings this year. A new slogan was added urging the strengthening of peace and security in Europe.

The slogan on Red China was dropped from the top of those for Communist countries to number five. Last May Day's reference to "eternal, unbreakable friendship" with Peking was omitted.

33 British Wounded

ADEN (AP)—Thirty-three British soldiers were wounded Sunday night by a hand grenade thrown into a movie theater inside an army camp at Beihan, in the South Arabia Federation.

Aden and the South Arabia Federation are plagued by almost daily terrorist attacks by nationalists fighting the British and the federation government.

Conservative Elected

MENDOZA, Argentina (AP)—Conservative Emilio Joffre was elected governor of this western Argentine province Sunday night, winning easily over his divided Peronist opposition.

Joffre, backed by President Arturo Illia's People's Radical party as well as Conservatives, won 215,426 votes in nearly complete returns.

One Peronist candidate, Ernesto Corvalan, received 101,668 votes while the other, Alberto Seru Garcia, had 61,105.

Prisoner Hangs Self

NEW YORK (AP)—A 40-year-old machinist, jailed Saturday when he failed to make bail after being arraigned on a petty larceny charge, was found hanged at city prison, early Monday.

Police said Louis Caputo was discovered hanging by a sheet from the gate of his cell by guard John Campbell.

He was pronounced dead by a prison doctor.

Police said Caputo, was arrested in connection with the theft of men's clothing from a department store.

The nothing play is a play that can lose but can't possibly win. Most nothing plays result from a player not knowing that he is going slightly out of his way to risk the loss of a trick.

Sometimes these tricks are not too important except that every trick means something and the player who makes a habit of losing unimportant tricks will find himself losing important tricks also.

Six no-trump is the perfect contract for North and South. Between the combined hands they hold the ace and king of three suits and six or seven tricks in diamonds depending on whether South has to lose a trick to the missing king. The East and West cards aren't shown because they have no real importance here. The only thing we are interested in is to see if you readers know how to avoid the nothing play with this card combination.

We will start telling you that this situation calls for a finesse. If you bang your ace and try to drop a singleton king you are taking a very poor line of play. You gain a trick if East holds the singleton king. You lose a trick if West holds a singleton ten or deuce or is void.

Is that the nothing play? No, it isn't! South's correct play is to lead the queen from his hand. He plans to finesse if the queen is not covered. The nothing play is to lead low from his hand. The difference is that if West holds all three missing diamonds the queen play gives South all the tricks. The play of a low diamond holds him to his contract.

Actually the low play followed by a finesse is better than the try for a drop but it is still a nothing play.

Symbol of Strength
Americans are the greatest talkers in the world. American Telephone and Telegraph — the leading communications enterprise — clearly proves this statement.

AT&T controls about 85 per cent of the telephones in the United States. In 1955, its gross revenues were $5,297,000,000. In 1960, they had increased to $7,900,000,000, and last year, they were through $11,000,000,000. Thus, in little more than a decade, they more than doubled.

To keep pace of this rapid growth, large capital expenditures were made. In three years — from May 1963 to May 1966 — this company has sold to investors two bond issues totaling $500,000,000.

In 1963, money was considerably cheaper than it is today. The May, 1963, bonds were easily sold at a premium. And right now, these obligations can be bought for $930 a $1,000 bond. The public offering of the 1966 issue ($250,000,000) due in 35 years and carrying an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent is selling for a little more than face value with a yield of about 5.11 per cent if held to maturity.

This series of statistics carries great significance. No corporation in the world is better managed than American Telephone. This enterprise is in the very center of the social and economic life of this great country.

The common stock of AT&T is held by more investors than the shares of any other company in the world.

AT&T common is temporarily weak price-wise in the markets.

The reason is easy to understand: its rates for service are under investigation and thousands of investors are wrongly (in my opinion) worried about its outcome. When the wind blows over, an army of AT&T stockholders will be sorry they sold their shares and, with confidence restored, they will buy back the shares at higher prices.

Communications reflects as well as any other activity the state of the social and economic life of America. And, as the figures cited earlier show, growth is automatic in the telephone business.

Between 1955-1965—11 years—AT&T revenues doubled. Right now, they are through 11 billions a year. And by 1975, they should be 20 billions a year.

The social use of the telephone is growing by leaps and bounds. The other night my wife talked long-distance for one hour and nine minutes. When she had finished, she said: "Well, somebody must pay the AT&T dividends!"

Sales by telephone are increasing rapidly, too.

And every month, my own long-distance calls run into substantial sums. Seattle, Tucson, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Rochester, Reno, Miami, Dallas, Washington, and Louisville are 10 cities on my steady list. Often one 10-minute call is worth a dozen letters.

AT&T symbolizes the economic growth that lies ahead for America.

THE FORUM

(Q) "Should I buy the 5 per cent bonds of AT&T or the common stock?"

F.E.K.

(A) For good income, buy the bonds. For growth, buy the stock.

800 Are Returning At GE. Out 4 Days

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—About 800 employees at the General Electric Co. plant here headed back to work today after a four-day strike over still unresolved grievances.

The walkout was called Thursday by Local 301 of the International Union of Electrical Workers and affected the Large Generator and the Motor and Gas Turbine Departments.

The union did not specify the grievances, but a spokesman said Friday the employees would return today.

A company spokesman said the strike was "part of an attempt to break an 18-month agreement" between the union and the company.

Under the compact, named Make Schenectady Competitive, the company agreed to expand its operations and the union was to accept a change in the pay schedule for 3,000 of its 9,000 members.

EYE INTEREST—Movies can be a rough way to make a living, Italian actress Rosanna Schiaffino discovered when a scene with an over-enthusiastic actor resulted in a genuine shiner. She made the most of the situation, however, by decorating her eye patch for a little eye interest.

Cleveland Granny Began Riding Motor Bike in 1929

By MICHAEL D. ROBERTS
Cleveland Plain Dealer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Va-room! Hey, who was that? You got to be putting me on. Nobody's 62-year-old grandmother wears black stretch pants and a crash helmet and tools around in a motorcycle.

Nobody, except Mrs. Wilson F. Ulmer of Twinsburg, a grandmother of three who has been riding motorcycles since 1929.

"Even used to ride in the winter," she said Sunday as she adjusted the strap on her white crash helmet. Her black leather jacket already was fastened and her pink lipstick was just so.

She was all set to hop on one of the motorcycles being inspected during Cycle Safety Sunday.

It's Fun

"Tell us about riding motorcycles," Mrs. Ulmer was asked. "It's fun, that's what it's all about," she said with the tight chin strap pinching her words.

"But there's one nut on them that you have to watch out for," she said.

"Yes, what nut is that?" "The nut that is sitting in the seat driving it," she said, adding that motorcycles are not for the reckless or the irresponsible.

Mrs. Ulmer's husband runs a garage in nearby Twinsburg and her son, Wilson G. 30, of Macedonia, cycles as does her daughter, Juanita Holiday, also of Macedonia. Mrs. Holiday shops with her motorcycle.

"Wilson went for his first ride when he was 6 months old," Mrs. Ulmer said.

President John Tyler had 14 children, seven by each of his two wives.

Juggling Figure Dies

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Harry H. Lind of Jamestown, a leading manufacturer of juggling clubs and a founder of the International Jugglers Association, is dead at 86.

He died Friday night in Women's Christian Association Hospital.

Lind began juggling in vaudeville in 1899. He became dissatisfied with the clubs used then and started manufacturing them in his garage in 1918.

Expect Both Parties Will Endorse Fuld

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Associate Judge Stanley H. Fuld is expected to receive the endorsement of both the Republican and Democratic parties as a candidate for chief judge of the state Court of Appeals.

Fuld was unanimously endorsed for the post Sunday by the Executive Committee of the State Bar Association at its annual spring meeting here.

Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond faces mandatory retirement in December when he will be 70.

Fuld, 62, of New York City, is the senior member of the state's highest court in length of service after Desmond.

MAY PHOTOGRAPHERS SNAP WEDDING IN CHURCH?

Q: We are planning to have a photographer take pictures of our wedding this summer. Is it right to have him take pictures in church?

A: Popping flashlights in church is in bad taste because it is distracting to the guests and the bride and groom. It detracts from the dignity and seriousness of the occasion. However, if the cameraman uses available light (no flashlights) and conducts himself discreetly, photography is permissible. But be sure to consult the pastor. Some churches forbid flashlights, some forbid all photography.

There is no reason not to have the photographer stationed at the back of the church to catch you and your husband as you come back down the aisle after the ceremony. Some of the most radiant bride pictures I have seen have been taken at this moment.

Husband Doesn't Like Fast Dances

Q: My husband and I have not been married for very long. We go to dances at our club couples our age. My husband doesn't like the fast dances, while I really think they are fun. I have been dancing the fast dances with some of the other men, and the slower ones with my husband. Now some friends are saying I shouldn't dance with the others, even though my husband doesn't mind. I don't know who is right and will go by what you say.

A: As long as your husband doesn't object, there is no reason why you shouldn't dance the fast dances with friends. One reason for going to dances is to mix with other people and enjoy their company.

Proposing The Wedding Toast

Q: I am going to be married in June. My fiancé has asked his father to be best man. However, his father does not want to sit at the bride table. He insists on being seated with his wife at the parents' table. Is this correct? If it is, how do we handle the traditional toast offered by the best?

A: The toast to the bride and groom is usually offered by the best man but may be proposed by anyone. Your fiancé's father is quite right in wanting to sit with his wife and your parents at the family table and therefore, one of the ushers (the head usher if there is one) may take over this duty.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bride's Party." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Emily Post Institute, in care of this newspaper.

Governor Proclaims 'Nurses Week' Today

ALBANY — Nursing was termed "one of the most noble professions" by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller today as he signed a proclamation designating this week as "Nurse Week" in New York State.

"Nurses occupy an honored position in our society," his proclamation stated. "The esteem we have for their professional stems from their unselfish devotion to the care of the ill, the aged, and the infirm. We are proud of the men and the women of our State who have chosen to make nursing their life's work."

In cooperation with the New York State Nurses Association and the New York State League for Nursing, the Student Nurses Association of New York State (SNANYS) will spearhead a state-wide observance of the special week. Their theme, "Nursing Creativity — Progress through Education," was commended by the Governor.

The State's action to meet the increasing need for registered professional nurses also was mentioned by the Governor, who noted that the State gov-

Curtain Goes Down At Golden Horseshoe; Last Met Performance

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the world's greatest singers said goodbye to the old Metropolitan Opera House at an exciting, 5½ hour farewell concert Saturday night the best way they know — by singing their very best.

The Golden Horseshoe will hear opera no more; in three weeks it will be torn down for an office building. The Met opens its season next September in a new $45.7-million building at Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

Leontyne Price, singing from "Il Trovatore," has seldom if ever sounded richer.

Zinka Milanov, who has sung 453 performances in 28 seasons, and was making her own farewell appearance, sounded as if she could be a long way from retirement. She sang the final duet from "Andrea Chenier" with Richard Tucker. They were called back for six bows — more than anybody else.

The audience, which had paid up to $200 a ticket, a total of $232,000, was even more talkative at intermissions and more elaborately garbed and glitteringly jeweled than at a Met opening night. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, whose two grandfathers had helped found the Met, was there with his wife. She was wearing a diamond and ruby tiara which had belonged to the Empress Elizabeth of Austria.

Conductor Leopold Stokowski, a spotlight shining on his white hair, made an impassioned plea to save the old Met, just after he had conducted the opening selection of the evening, the entrance of the guests — the Met chorus — from "Tannhauser."

Turning to face the audience, the 84-year-old Stokowski said, "It is a great pleasure to bring music to an audience of true lovers of music such as you are and in such a beautiful house. I ask you very much to save this magnificent building."

Then 32 former Met soloists were introduced, took bows and sat on the stage until the first intermission. The program ended, at 1:25 a.m., with the audience standing, all the soloists and chorus on stage, holding hands, and everybody singing "Auld Lang Syne."

ernment awards several hundred scholarships annually to those seeking nursing education. In addition, nursing students are eligible for special low-cost, delayed-repayment loans by the New York State Higher Education Assistance Corporation, available through local lending institutions with State subsidy and guarantee.

Wins Fellowship

PETER B. HOWELL

Peter B. Howell, a mathematics teacher at New Paltz Central School, has been awarded a Shell Merit Fellowship for advanced study this summer at Cornell University.

F. H. Staub, vice president of the Eastern Marketing Region for Shell Oil Company, in making the announcement, said Howell is one of 100 outstanding high school science and mathematics teachers from the United States and Canada selected to attend the 1966 graduate-level seminars at Stanford and Cornell Universities.

Both universities made their selections on the basis of merit and leadership qualities from approximately 2,000 applicants. The seminars were established 11 years ago by the Shell Companies Foundation, Incorporated, to help maintain the quality of the nation's scientific effort. Including this year's award winners, 1050 teachers will have attended the seminars since the program was started.

Howell and other educators selected to attend the seminar will receive a travel allowance, tuition costs, living expenses, and $500 additional cash to offset loss of potential summer earnings, Staub said.

The Stanford seminar will be from June 20 to August 13 and the Cornell seminar from July 5 through August 12. Fifty teachers attend each seminar.

Howell received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Princeton University in 1959, and studied under National Science Foundation grants at Brown University during the summer of 1962 and the academic year 1962-1963.

Before joining the faculty at New Paltz High in 1963 he taught at Mohonk Cragmoor, N. Y. School and at the Salisbury, Connecticut School.

He is a member of the New York State Teachers Association and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He is past president and current chairman of the Faculty-Board Liaison Committee of the New Paltz Teachers Association.

He is married to the former Teresa E. Grose, and has a four-year-old daughter, Katherine Mary. They reside at 265 A Main Street, New Paltz.

Staub said that while at Cornell, Howell and other teachers will receive advanced training in mathematics, chemistry and physics as well as training in new educational techniques and first-hand knowledge of applications of science and mathematics in industry. Lectures by distinguished mathematicians and scientists and field trips to research laboratories and industrial plants are included in the seminar program.

Howell also will be encouraged to devote time to any phase of his work at New Paltz Central School which he feels requires special research or attention.

Staub said the Merit Fellowship program is one of a number of aid-to-education programs sponsored by the Shell Foundation. The foundation was created in 1953 and by the end of this year, it will have donated $10,666,972 in support of education.

Tracy Elliotts Wed 38 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Elliott of Connelly, N. Y., are celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary on April 19 with a vacation in Bermuda.

They were married by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, now deceased, at the Fair Street Reformed Church, and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Snyder of 24 Browning Terrace.

April Theme Is Israel For Aguda Sisterhood

Members of the Sisterhood Congregation Aguda Achim marked the 18th anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Israel at their April meeting in the Vestry Hall.

Herbert Greenwald of Greenwald's Travel Agency, showed a series of informative slides of Israel which he had taken during a recent visit to that country. He also discussed many points relative to the state of the Republic and its rapid development.

After the program, a short business meeting was held during which many reports were made to the members. It was announced that the annual Donor Luncheon will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 9, at Grossinger's Country Club. All interested members are asked to contact Mrs. Herman Schneider for detailed information. As always, members attending the luncheon will be able to use the complete facilities at Grossinger's. Also, plans are being made for a Bar-b-que in conjunction with the entire congregation on June 18. Further details will be announced at the next meeting on May 11. Since this will be the annual Mother's Day meeting all members are urged to attend.

The special refreshments for the evening were served by Mrs. George Farber in honor of her daughter Sharyn's recent engagement.

The Joiners

The regular meeting of Kingston Lodge, 10, F & AM, will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue. This will be a business meeting. All Master Masons are invited.

Egan's Home Run In 8th Inning Decides Game

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Bill Egan banged a three-run homer in the eighth inning to climax a fantastic comeback and give Ulster Community College a 13-10 victory over Kingsborough in the locals' diamond opener Saturday at Cantine Field in Saugerties.

Coach Al DiBernardo's batters were down 6-0 before they came up for their swings in the opening. After tying the count at 6-6 by the end of the fourth, the Senators fell behind once again and trailed by four runs, 10-6, going into the stretch portion of the seventh.

The Senators rallied thrice in the seventh and it was now a 10-9 game. A double by Tony Toney and Joe Amendola's single in the eighth knotted the count.

Shortstop Paul Butkins kept the rally alive by drawing a base on balls. After Rich Greco banged into a forceout, Egan blasted his game winner to deep center field.

Strong Relief

Ken Heppner, who hurled three innings of one-hit ball, was credited with the win. He fanned four batters in his relief.

Gary Greiner started for coach Al DiBernardo's nine but his arm stiffened early in the first inning. He gave up six runs and as many hits before turning over the mound chores to Gene Fix. Kingsborough tapped Fix for seven hits and four runs in 5 1/3 frames.

George Drutman, John Frelich, Butkins, Egan and Bruce Erlichmann swatted two hits each for the Senators.

Ulster has three road engagements this week. The Senators are at Rockland this afternoon, at New Paltz against the State University jayvee team on Wednesday and at Sullivan Community College on Thursday.

Marlboro Tops Onteora, 7-1

Rich Ronkese slammed an opposite field grand slam home run in the first inning to high-light Marlboro's 7-1 UCAL win Friday at Onteora.

The defending champions did all their scoring in the opening inning and were then blanked by Charles Moore. He gave up seven hits, walked two and fanned nine.

Onteora was held to four hits by Rod Aurigemma. The Indians' only run came on a round-tripper by John Waters in the second.

Faccioli Goal Decides Contest At College Point

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There's one thing about golfer Jay Brewer. He doesn't pick on any soft touches in a playoff.

Brewer's opponent in an 18-hole playoff today was a fellow named Arnold Palmer, with whom he tied after the regulation 72 holes Sunday in the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

One week ago the 34-year-old Gay, from Louisville, Ky., by way of Dallas, Tex., merely faced Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 18 holes after they deadlocked in the famed Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Nicklaus, of course, won with two-under par 70, Jacobs had 72 and Gay 78.

"The way I was putting, I'm lucky to get into the playoff this time," said Brewer, who rapidly is becoming a sentimental favorite with golf fans.

Palmer and Brewer met once before under the same conditions and Arnie won in a sudden death test in the West Palm Beach Open in 1959.

With $20,000 at stake for the winner and $12,000 to the runner-up, this was the first playoff in the 14-year history of the tournament here.

Brewer, undisputed leader in the middle rounds, went into Sunday's final 18 holes leading Palmer by five strokes and Bill Casper by six.

Palmer, with an eagle three on the fifth hole, cut the margin by three strokes in five holes and going into the final nine was only one shot back of Brewer and Casper was two.

Casper eventually faded to 70 and 285, which was worth $8,000. Palmer finally caught Gay on the 13th hole with a birdie three and went ahead for the first time on the 17th hole, again with a birdie three.

Came the 72nd and final hole. All Arnie needed to win was a par four.

Palmer missed the putt, took a bogey five to Brewer's par—and that's why both were on hand at the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club today.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said the 25-mile an hour gusty winds were the worst he ever encountered, shot a 76 for 294.

Dave Marr, the PGA champion, and former PGA titleholder Bobby Nichols tied at 289 with Frank Beard.

Yancey 278 Cops First Azalea Win

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — While the champions were out in Las Vegas, professional golf's youngsters got together at Wilmington and put on quite a show of their own.

Bert Yancey, a husky blond from Philadelphia, withstood the pressure applied by other victory-starved hopefuls and came through with his initial tour triumph Sunday. He won the Azalea Open with a closing 68, four under par, for a 278 total.

He was one shot in front of Bob Johnson, three ahead of Dave Marad, and four ahead of Tom Weiskopf. Each of them also was aiming for his first triumph. Yancey won $3,200 of the $22,800 purse, more than he had won all year. In recent weeks the 27-year-old Yancey's game has been coming back to the form he flashed last year when he won $22,000 and finished 44th on the official money list.

"I'd been swinging too high on my backswing, but I made some adjustments and have been playing better," he said in looking back on his rounds of 74-69-67-68.

Johnson closed with 67, five under par for the 6,744-yard Cape Fear Country Club course. His earnings for second place was $2,100. He'd won only $812 before this year.

Yancey had started the round tied for the lead with Weiskopf and Larry Beck. A 73 finish was Beck's fate as he slipped to 283 to tie Al Bessink and Dick Lytle for fifth place, each winning $1,166.

Palmer, Brewer In Golf Playoff

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There's one thing about golfer Jay Brewer. He doesn't pick on any soft touches in a playoff.

Brewer's opponent in an 18-hole playoff today was a fellow named Arnold Palmer, with whom he tied after the regulation 72 holes Sunday in the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

One week ago the 34-year-old Gay, from Louisville, Ky., by way of Dallas, Tex., merely faced Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 18 holes after they deadlocked in the famed Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Nicklaus, of course, won with two-under par 70, Jacobs had 72 and Gay 78.

"The way I was putting, I'm lucky to get into the playoff this time," said Brewer, who rapidly is becoming a sentimental favorite with golf fans.

Palmer and Brewer met once before under the same conditions and Arnie won in a sudden death test in the West Palm Beach Open in 1959.

With $20,000 at stake for the winner and $12,000 to the runner-up, this was the first playoff in the 14-year history of the tournament here.

Brewer, undisputed leader in the middle rounds, went into Sunday's final 18 holes leading Palmer by five strokes and Bill Casper by six.

Palmer, with an eagle three on the fifth hole, cut the margin by three strokes in five holes and going into the final nine was only one shot back of Brewer and Casper was two.

Casper eventually faded to 70 and 285, which was worth $8,000. Palmer finally caught Gay on the 13th hole with a birdie three and went ahead for the first time on the 17th hole, again with a birdie three.

Came the 72nd and final hole. All Arnie needed to win was a par four.

Palmer missed the putt, took a bogey five to Brewer's par—and that's why both were on hand at the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club today.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said the 25-mile an hour gusty winds were the worst he ever encountered, shot a 76 for 294.

Nicklaus, who never recovered from his opening round 76, had a 72 for 288 and a tie with Australia's Bruce Crampton and his 74.

Dave Marr, the PGA champion, and former PGA titleholder Bobby Nichols tied at 289 with Frank Beard.

Koufax Nears Form, Hurls 6 Good Frames

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax has only one problem: He's in California, but his arm's still in Florida.

Making his second start at Los Angeles Sunday, Koufax struggled through six shutout innings in the Dodgers' 5-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs and then admitted that his arm still was at the Florida exhibition stage of the season.

"Right now I'm about that stage in spring training where we would just be beginning to play games," said the Dodger Dandy, who held out for 32 days of the exhibition season. "Normally I would be trying for three innings at this stage."

But Koufax, who received the Cy Young Award before the game for being baseball's best pitcher last year, indicated he was satisfied with his progress.

"My intention was to go nine innings," he said, "and I'd be dumb enough to try it if they let me. I thought I had pretty good stuff at times. At least I could throw this time."

Last time was his first start, against Houston, and the $130,000 pitcher didn't survive the fourth inning. Against the Cubs he seemed to have difficulty getting loose at the start of each inning but kept five hits scattered while striking out six and allowing one walk.

After the sixth inning, Dodger Manager Walt Alton lifted his tiring ace and Bob Miller finished up with three innings of one-hit pitching while Koufax went to the dressing room and began to soak his arthritic left elbow in ice.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants won their fifth game in six starts by beating Houston 3-1, the New York Mets went over .500 for the first time in history by edging Atlanta 5-4, Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 6-5 and Philadelphia whipped Cincinnati 3-1.

The Giants snapped a 1-1 tie against the Astros in the seventh on singles by Tom Haller, Tito Fuentes and winning pitcher Bob Bolin off Barry Latman, a former American Leaguer.

Jim Davenport provided some added working room with an eighth inning homer.

Felipe Alou and Lee Thomas

homered on the Braves but the Mets came out on top by scoring in the ninth without a hit. That brought their record to 2-1—the first time in their five-year history they have had a winning record at any point in the season.

Bill Murphy walked to open the ninth for the Mets and raced to third when Thomas picked up Larry Bearnarth's bunt and threw it into center field. Reliever Billy O'Dell then walked Ed Bressoud and Ron Swoboda, forcing in the tie-breaking run.

The Pirates, who had lost 18 in a row to the Cardinals at Pittsburgh's Forbes Field, made it two in a row over St. Louis when Bill Mazeroski lofted a sacrifice fly with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Rich Allen's two-run homer in the first inning gave the Phillies all the runs they needed as Chris Short kept 10 Cincinnati hits well scattered.

Experts Address Trout Forum

Cooperation Is Principal Theme At Phoenicia

Conservation Department officials attending the first annual Region 8 Trout Forum at Phoenicia, from the left: Peter Nuzzolese, secretary Trout Forum (Goshen); Maurice Otis, CD Superin-

William Acker of Warwick served as moderator and toastmaster. William S. Meyer, president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County welcomed the group.

Maurice Otis, the CD's Superintendent of stream improvement, gave a comprehensive presentation of the topic at the Saturday morning session.

He showed slides of a trip to British Columbia and stream structures and their value in improved fishing and the spawning run of the salmon to their productive fields.

A highlight of his talk was a description of the "run" on the Big Quicum River and how the cooperation of utility companies, local government and sportsmen have made a tremendous stride in preserving the trout and salmon population. With pictures of man-constructed spawning channels, Otis pointed out the value of stream improvement for all streams where a good spawning run could produce, preserve and maintain mounting fish pressure.

Kea Wich, Region 8 Fish Manager, spoke of trout regulations for Section 8, reiterating Bentley's plea for closer cooperation of all and the need for regulations.

William Coler, director of Trout Unlimited, spoke on the need of trout management and its value to sportsmen.

Henry Bernstein, local Game Protector, dealt with state policy on regulations and the need of law enforcement in the field. Stressing the education of sportsmen, Bernstein noted that violations have diminished tremendously in recent years and urged all to particularly educate the youth on regulations and their value to future fishing.

He stressed that regulations are a benefit rather than a restriction.

A roast beef dinner with Frank Genter as caterer was served Saturday evening. In another fine address in the evening, Bentley described how the state is striving to produce more and better fishing and the research being done and accomplished for the return of muskellonge and pike. The growth and propagation of these fish was thoroughly explained.

Frank Peck of Phoenicia narrated a field trip Sunday to stream improvement structures in the Woodland Valley flow.

Other Speakers

Other speakers on stream improvements were Jim Mullarkey, Putnam County; Walter Kehm, Westchester; and Frank Peck of Ulster County. Each urged continued support of the stream improvement projects and their value, if good fishing is the desire of sportsmen. Slides were also shown.

William Bentley, Chief of Bureau of Fish, spoke on: Trout Management Through Regulations. He described the many regulations and their effects on trout population. Without proper cooperation of all concerned, he said regulations are dead. The stocking and taking on a put and take basis is not the answer to good fishing, he said.

Bentley noted that it cost $1.22 a pound to produce trout for the creel. With regulations properly applied, such as good water and stream improvement, a much better quality of fish can be produced. Regulation of size, creel limit, manner of taking were discussed as to their value to different sections of the state.

Bentley's informative talk was warmly received and he proved forthright in his answers to questions from the floor.

Tiant Hurls Unbeaten Tribe to 6-0 Decision

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Tiant didn't eat any potatoes this winter, so now he's in the gravy and the opposition's in the soup.

Tiant had the Boston Red Sox eating out of his hand Sunday, scattering seven hits as Cleveland won 6-0 and remained the only unbeaten team in the majors.

The Cuban right-hander thus became the first pitcher to post a shutout in the American League this season and exhibited signs that he is ready to return to his 1964 rookie form after a disappointing season last year.

The difference in Tiant apparently stems from his ability to become a hungry pitcher instead of a fat one during the off-season.

Tiant weighed 181 pounds, 20 less than last year, and ordered pants with a size 32 waist instead of the 36 he wore in 1965.

"I feel good, very good," the 25-year-old Tiant told everyone at camp. "I throw two, maybe three times a week in Mexico City, but mostly run and not eat. No work at regular job, but work all time on getting in good condition. I think I pitch better because I lose alla weight."

"I stop eating greasy foods. No chocolate, no potatoes, no bread, no beans...Well, sometimes — maybe once a week — I eat the beans, but not much."

In his first year — or more correctly first half-year since he didn't join Cleveland until the middle of the season — Tiant won 10 games and lost four. Then in 1965 he dipped to 11-11.

In other American League games Washington whipped previously unbeaten Detroit 10-4, Baltimore edged New York 5-4 and Chicago blanked Kansas City 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game was washed out by rain as was the California-Minnesota game.

Pinch Hit Homer

A grand slam homer by Washington pinch hitter Bob Chance highlighted a six-run outburst in the seventh inning that stopped the Tigers' five-game winning streak. Ken Mollen contributed another homer to the rally. The victory was the first for the Senators, who had lost three.

Shortstop Bobby Murcer made his third error of the game in the eighth inning, a miscue that helped Baltimore score two runs and down New York. Charlie Lau brought in the tying run with a sacrifice fly, and Curt Blefary's single drove in the winner.

John Buzhardt picked up the AL's second shutout a couple of hours after Tiant got his, stopping Kansas City on three hits in a rain-delayed game. Floyd Robinson led the White Sox attack with two singles and a home run.

First Win Alters Schaus' Strategy

By C. C. McGILLICUDDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Fred Schaus has changed his thinking now that his Los Angeles Lakers have taken a 1-0 lead over the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's championship final series.

"Being realistic, I'd have been content to win one of the two games played here," Schaus said after the Lakers upset Boston 133-129 in overtime Sunday at Boston Garden, overcoming an 18-point deficit. "But when you win the first, you get greedy and want the second."

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played at Boston Tuesday night before the teams switch to the West Coast for the third and fourth games.

Schaus said the importance of the Lakers winning the first game "might be exaggerated." It merely means "that Boston knows it must win one at Los Angeles. However," he added, "if we win the second, then Boston has got some thinking to do."

Boston Coach Red Auerbach agreed that his defending champions "have our work cut out for us."

He was furious over what he considered some questionable calls but conceded "no matter what you say, you can't get it back now."

Pittsfield Five Tops Colonial Net Teams

The 1965 gross champions, Lenox House Rest of Pittsfield, Mass., have moved into second place with a 3,097, while talking over the net lead on 2953, in the second annual Colonial City tournament at Sangi's Bowlero.

The Bay Staters rolled net games of 940, 987, 1026 for 2953 and had 144 pins handicap.

AAA Sawing File of Rifton held first place gross with 3131. Poughkeepsie squads claimed third and fourth place gross, as the Bow Five shot 3067 and All Star Five had 3061.

Three Kingston squads rounded out the top seven—Greenkill Rest, 3052; Kingston Oil Supply, 3021; and Stuyvesant Barbers, 3002.

Galloway Mustangs of Newburgh's Mid Hudson Major league took over second net game on 2924 and Shaker, Travis and Quinn of Poughkeepsie's Mardi-Quinn All Star circuit are third with 2884.

Poughkeepsie bowlers dominated the individual and team statistics. Bob Botsford posted 254, Tony Potenza 657 and Shaker-Travis-Quinn, high team game, 1077.

Joliet Kegler Raps ABC 1925

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 60-year-old bowler from Joliet, Ill. brought the only significant changes in standings Sunday in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Cliff Tolle, a supervisor for an oil company, compiled a nine-game total of 1,925 to move into sixth place in the regular all-events division. He fired 649 in team play Saturday, 629 in doubles and 647 in singles for the score.

Still leading in the regular all-events with 2,004 is John Wilcox of Williamsport, Pa., who bowled April 5.

Tolle paired with William Randolph of Joliet to take 10th place in the regular doubles with their combined 1,293. Randolph shot 644 toward their total. It was the best doubles tally the two have had in 10 years as bowling partners.

Tony Loloacano and Bob Kwiecien of Detroit held the lead in the regular doubles with 1,351, compiled April 2.

In regular team action Sunday, Keith's Transportation of Wayne, Mich., opened with a 1,074 game, the best start of any team thus far in the tourney. Its later totals of 919 and 967, however, kept it from cracking the top 10 standings in the division.

Keith's score of 2,960 put it five pins behind Strike & Spare Lanes of Springfield, Ill., which has held 10th place since March 27.

Port Ewen Cubs Win Spectacular, Hold Award Fete
Cub Scout Pack 26 had 161 cubs, parents and friends attending their annual blue and gold banquet held recently at the Port Ewen Reformed Church Hall. The cubs and denmothers made the decorations on the theme of transportation.

The Rev. Ronald Lokhorst, the host church minister welcomed everyone to the 56th annual birthday of scouting.

The invocation was by the Rev. Cecil McFarland of the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

The family style meal was served by the Girl Scouts. Den cakes marked the 37th anniversary of Cub Scouting. Commissioner Robert Tremper led group singing at the conclusion of the dinner.

The opening ceremony was by the Webelos Den—Frank Bell, leader. The pledge of allegiance was given, followed by two trumpeters, Robert Cole and Joseph Brown, playing America.

Commissioner Tremper opened the Court of Awards with AKELA, Cubmaster Sylvester Brown in a colorful Indian head-dress.

A Bobcat Induction welcomed the following boys and their parents into the pack: Walter Baschnagel, Robert Schlichting, Charles Barnoski and Michael Quick. The pack has a new den Den 3 and two new den denmothers, Mrs. Baschnagel and Mrs. Barnoski.

Wolf badges were awarded to William John Ellis, Den 2; Steven Tremper, Den 6; Joseph Diamond, Den 7; Joseph Gaddis, Den 7.

Lion badges were given to Douglas Bell, Den 2; Burt Ellis, Jr., Den 2.

Gold arrows were awarded to Arthur Shlightner, under Wolf; Brian Shlightner, under Bear; Benjamin Cornish, under Bear; Douglas Bell, under Lion; Anthony Russo, under Wolf; Dean Cantor, under Wolf.

Silver arrows were given to Anthony Russo, under Wolf; Dean Cantor, under Wolf; Rolf Koola, under Bear; Benjamin Cornish, under Bear.

One year service stars were awarded to Delton Pritchard, Den Chief and Anthony Russo.

Two year service stars were awarded to Martin Jordan, Brian Shlightner, Douglas Bell, Burt Ellis, Thomas Cornish, and Gary Galevald.

Honored for Attendance
A perfect attendance award for two years was given to Thomas Cornish. A one year perfect attendance award was given to Brian Shlightner and Douglas Bell. Ronald Latz, Jr. was given his Den Chief's book.

Denner Stripes and Assistant Denner Stripes were given to Thomas Karol, denner and Johnson.

Mid Hudson Librarians To Coordinate Services
"Library Resources in the Hudson Valley" will be the topic of discussion at a meeting of the Southeastern New York Library Resources Council at the Helene Center, Poughkeepsie, Tuesday at 12:30 p. m., according to Miss Jean McFarland, council president.

A panel will discuss the problems of coordinating library services among all types of libraries. Members of the panel include: Leon Kappel, director of Mid-Hudson Libraries; Richard Shepherd, librarian of the State University College at New Paltz; Mrs. Jone Wernick, librarian, Spackenkill Junior High School, Poughkeepsie; and Frederick W. Holzbar, librarian, IBM systems development division.

The moderator for the program will be Basil Mitchell, academic and research library consultant, division of library extension, New York State Library.

Johnson Ends Holiday
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson neared the end of his springtime holiday in Texas today.

Johnson, who flew to his LBJ Ranch April 7 for Easter, was expected to return to Washington late tonight with Mrs. Johnson, who will entertain 3,000 Democratic women at a White House tea Tuesday.

There was a chance the President might decide to spend another day or two on his home acres—particularly if the weather took a turn for the better. It was wet and cloudy over most of the central Texas hill country Sunday.

Arrested for Burglary At Marlboro Bakery
An 18-year-old youth was in custody today awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace Linn Baker, Town of Lloyd on a charge of third degree burglary.

Trooper Peter Benessee of Highland said Charles John Polizzi, of Plattkill Road, Marlboro, was arrested Sunday night by Trooper John Crodelle. The defendant is accused of burglarizing the Marlboro Bakery operated by Joseph Cricchio.

State Police said Polizzi was taken to Vassar Hospital and treated for a laceration of the right arm which he reportedly sustained while using a screwdriver in the bakery. Arraigned before Judge Baker, Polizzi was held in $500 bail. He is slated to appear again in court at 7:30 p. m. today.

Court Strikes Down Ariz. Law On Loyalty Oath
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today an Arizona law requiring a loyalty oath of all state employees.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Byron R. White wrote a dissenting opinion. Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart joined in White's opinion.

The court ruled on an appeal by Mrs. Barbara Elfrandt, a public school teacher of Tucson who refused to sign the oath. The law says public employees who refuse to sign must be taken off the payroll, although not discharged. Mrs. Elfrandt has taught for eight years without pay.

She contended the requirement denied her right of free association and free speech. She is a member of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), but her attorney emphasized before the Supreme Court that the fact was not being argued in the case.

Vernon Elfrandt, husband of Mrs. Elfrandt, likewise refused to sign and has taught for eight years without pay. The attack on the state law was brought in her name only.

Estimates were made that if she won the case, the Elfrandts would likely collect back pay of about $50,000. The former Spokane, Wash., couple have received financial aid from friends and supporters of their beliefs.

Local Unit Asks State Probe of Housing Charge

An investigation by the State Commission of Human Rights has been asked by the Kingston Community Action Project of an alleged refusal by P. H. Burger, 10 Green Street, to rent to Negro, the KCAP reported today.

A statement released today by the KCAP said:

Saturday April 16, a dozen or so residents of Kingston picketed the apartments of Mr. Burger at 10 Green Street, where he has refused to rent to a Negro.

A white woman went and rented the apartment from Mr. Burger, receiving a receipt and the key, then informed Mr. Burger she had rented it for a friend of hers. This was fine with Mr. Burger until she mentioned that her friend was a Negro. Mr. Burger proceeded to change the lock on the door, call a lawyer, and refuse to rent the apartment at all. The State Commission on Human Rights in Albany was called and are coming down Monday.

But while legal steps are being taken, members of the Kingston Community Action Project (KCAP) 35 Broadway, felt the need for a picket to publicize and dramatize the fact that Negroes in Kingston are being refused housing.

While Mr. Burger has accused us of fraud by getting a white person to rent an apartment for a Negro, we are forced, because of discrimination to do this.

It should not be necessary for a Negro to use these means or to picket, or to go through Albany and the law in order to rent an apartment.

Further, it should not be necessary for any human being to go through the inhumanity of being turned down on the basis of his color when looking for a decent place to live and raise a family.

We wish Kingston would wake up to the fact of how serious this problem is: we believe there is good thinking people in our community that will stand up and be counted.

Leary Facing ...

"police state intrusion" into artistic and scientific research. Last March 12 in Laredo, U.S. District Judge Ben Connally sentenced Leary to 20 years for transporting marijuana and 10 years for not paying the tax on it. He also fined Leary $40,000.

Leary is free on bond pending appeal of the Texas conviction. Leary's 18-year-old daughter, Susan, also was found guilty in the Texas case of not paying the marijuana tax. She was given an indeterminate sentence in a federal reformatory. Her case also is being appealed.

The daughter was not at the Millbrook mansion. Among the six children, 12 years of age or younger there, was Leary's son, not further identified. Leary has testified that he used marijuana in research on its effects by his foundation at Millbrook and also in religious rites of a Hindu sect.

Expelled From Mexico
In June, 1963, Leary was expelled from Mexico along with 19 other Americans after setting up a religio-psychological center at Acapulco where LSD and other "consciousness - expanding" experiences could be had for $6 a treatment.

Leary was released in $5,000 bail in the current case, Swain and Kaplan in $3,000, and Mrs. Swain in $1,000 bond.

Swain described himself as a "minister of Vendetta Hinduism," while Kaplan said he was a photographer.

Copters Rescue Crewmen
Although no American planes were reported lost in the attacks around Hanoi, other heavy air strikes Sunday near Vinh and Dong Hoi cost three planes. Helicopters rescued all five crewmen.

A spokesman also said that an Air Force F4C Phantom jet hit Saturday by anti-aircraft fire near Dong Hoi, 250 miles south of Hanoi, had been given up as lost. Its two crewmen were listed as missing in action.

Over the south, Air Force B52s assaulted a suspected Viet Cong marshalling point at noon today 65 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

Ky Hand Bolstered
On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's hold on the reins of government was strengthened by a declaration from the country's most militant Buddhist leader that he was prepared to let the military junta stay in power until the elections it has promised to hold in three to five months.

Thich Tri Quang, chief agitator of the month-long anti-government unrest, told nearly 5,000 followers in Da Nang that he was joining moderates in the Buddhist hierarchy in calling for a suspension of demonstrations.

Bitten by Monkey

Joan Humphrey, 19, a Vassar College student, was treated in the Vassar Hospital emergency room Saturday afternoon after she was bitten on the left thumb by a monkey, according to Town of Poughkeepsie Police.

The monkey was owned by John Ryder, Troy. Miss Humphrey is a sophomore at the college and her home is in Atlanta, Ga. She was released after treatment.

Congress Back, Awaits LBJ Word On Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress resumes full activity today, still wondering whether it will have to face soon a request from President Johnson for an income tax increase.

Some administration supporters have suggested the decision whether to ask for a tax boost, to fight inflation and help finance the Viet Nam fighting, might be made late in April.

By then, reliable figures on the current income tax yield should be in, now that the deadline for filing has passed, and the closely watched cost of living statistics may give a hint whether price increases are leveling off.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to outline the administration's $3.4-billion foreign aid request.

But there is not much immediate business before Congress as the House ends its Easter holiday. The Senate has been back since last Wednesday.

To Ease ...

reconvene at the Capitol this afternoon.

1,000 Bills Pending

Legislative leaders of both parties hoped to mount a drive for adjournment of the 1966 session by mid-May. But, judging by the production of previous years, they still had to deal with more than 1,000 bills on a wide variety of subjects.

Among the measures are bills that would authorize an additional $74 million in state aid for the public schools and that would provide for state participation in the federal program of medical care for the needy.

Both bills have been tied up in deadlocked disagreements between Travia, the Legislature's top-ranking Democrat, and Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller insists on having the State Social Welfare Department administer the medical care program, while Travia has been holding out for the Health Department. Travia also is pressing for more liberal eligibility requirements for the medical aid.

Agree But Disagree

Travia and Rockefeller agree on the amount of school aid to be provided, but they disagree on the extent of penalties assessed against school districts that tax and spend below levels considered desirable by the state. Travia wants to ease or eliminate such penalties.

"I'm not going to back down on either of these issues," Travia said. "My positions are right, and I'm going to stick to them."

Some compromises appeared inevitable, however, and Brydges indicated he would discuss these subjects — as well as the divorce problem — in talks with Travia today and Tuesday.

Brydges said he hoped to complete revision of the divorce measure this week and bring the bill to a vote next week.

Prompt action on the divorce issue was sought Sunday by a group of pickets who paraded in front of the Capitol to dramatize their demands for relaxation of the state's divorce law.

The building was darkened, however, and there were no lawmakers on hand to heed their appeal.

Sidney Siller, counsel for the Committee for Fair Divorce and Alimony Laws, said the pickets preferred the Travia - Brydges bill to one introduced earlier in the session by Sen. Jerome Wilson, D-Manhattan.

Would Liberalize Law

Both measures would liberalize the present law, which permits divorce only on the ground of adultery, by adding the grounds of abandonment, imprisonment of a spouse, homosexual conduct, cruel and inhuman treatment and voluntary separation.

The Wilson bill, backed by the Senate-Assembly study committee that he headed, differs chiefly from the leaders' bill in that a couple could obtain a divorce after living apart voluntarily for two years. No separation decree or other formal step would be required in advance.

Travia said the leaders had insisted on a separation decree so that there could be some evidence that a couple actually had separated. Signing a separation agreement drawn up by a lawyer would accomplish the same purpose, he asserted.

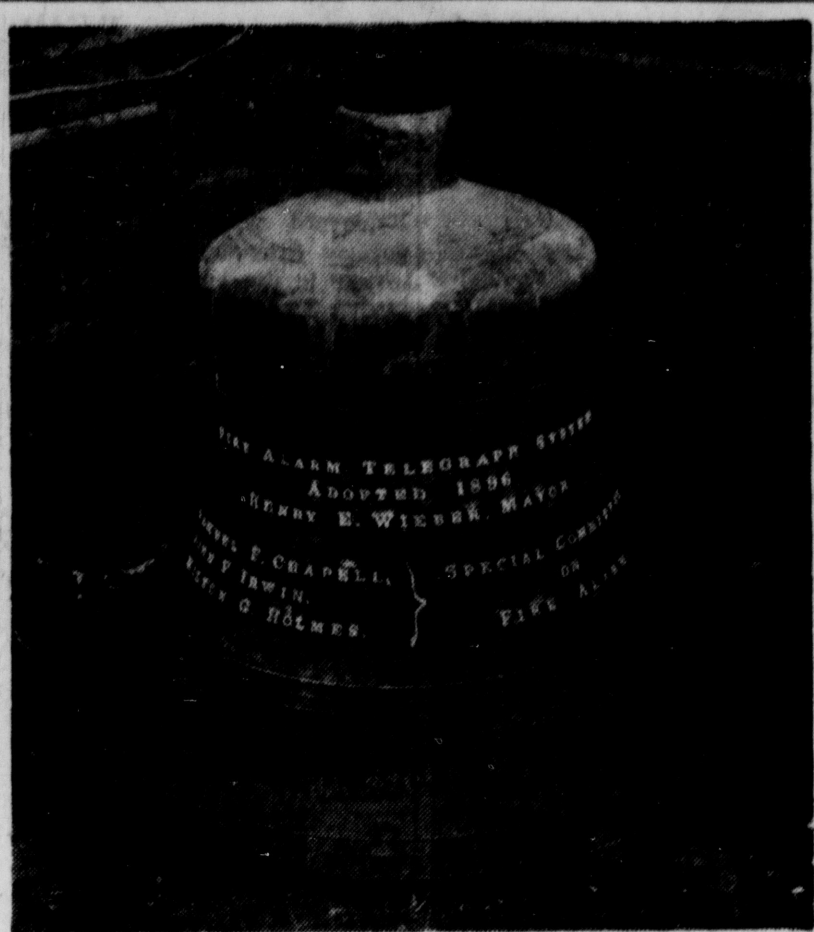

Wilson and other liberal-minded Democrats in the Legislature had attacked the leaders' original bill on the basis that obtaining a court decree of separation would require one party to concede fault. Their objective was to provide for a "no-fault" divorce.

Both Under Fire
The Roman Catholic Church had opposed the two-year separation feature in the Wilson bill, however, with the argument that it was tantamount to "divorce by consent."

On the other hand, the Protestant State Council of Churches had criticized the five-year separation feature in the leaders' bill as too strict.

The revision now contemplated by the leaders appeared to be an effort to strike a compromise between the two viewpoints.

Both Travia and Brydges said they were disinclined to revise another heavily criticized feature of their bill, a proposed crackdown on "quickie" out-of-state divorces. Their measure would invalidate an out-of-state divorce if the divorced person resumed residence in New York within 18 months of having left the state.

SOLID HUNK OF HISTORY—Once a proud part of Kingston's history as she towered over the city like a guardian on high, this 69-year-old bell rests alone, her once mighty toll stilled—perhaps forever. Lowered in a manner that suggests ignominy, the great bell that once graced old Excelsior Hose house on Hurley Avenue, has been consigned to solitude in the rear of Central Fire Station—at least until her fate is determined. Sturdy frame was cast in 1896 by Menely Bell Company of Troy. Inscription on one side bears name of manufacturer and other identifies "Fire and Telegraph System" along with names of Mayor Henry Wieber and "Special Committee on Fire Alarms." Samuel Chappell, John J. Irwin and Milton G. Holmes, all of whom were in office when bell was installed Feb. 3, 1897. She remained aloft, a symbol of assurance to nearby residents, until 58 years later when Excelsior was discontinued in 1955 and the 1,100-pound beauty was replaced by a "modern air horn," almost as if in insult. Fire officials said that bell, which is salvageable, will remain at Central awaiting disposition of current Board of Fire Commissioners. (Freeman photo by Kruh) cism of Johnson's Asian policies.

But chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he didn't think "there will be any fireworks."

Another senior Democrat, Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama expressed belief the committee could discuss the situation with Rusk — and with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Wednesday — "and not cause an explosion."

The committee's mood, said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., may depend on Rusk — "to the extent he is frank with us. There is no use kidding ourselves, we are in trouble. We can't correct a problem by ignoring it."

The reason for Rusk's and McNamara's appearances before the committee is to support the administration's foreign aid requests. The hearings are to be televised nationally.

Doubts Full Effort
Goldwater expressed doubt the United States was doing all it could to "insure the stability in Saigon."

"The new civil disturbances over there — especially the demonstrations — I've looked upon as Communist inspired ... If it keeps on as a continuing civil war, then I think we're in a very bad fix," Goldwater said.

The lack of a stable government in Saigon is one reason, Goldwater said, why the United States isn't making more progress in Viet Nam.

A second reason, he said, is "because we're not making military judgments based upon military needs and military strategy. We're making judgments based upon domestic political needs."

Trying to Save Members
Goldwater said "it's an open secret in Washington" that the Joint Chiefs of Staff want to bomb petroleum dumps around the port of Haiphong.

But, he continued, Johnson wants "to keep the war at a low level to save as many members of his Congress as he can. Historically the President must expect quite a loss for the 'in party' in November ... whether there was a war or not. If you throw a war in, his losses could be very large."

Goldwater contended Johnson was trying to please both hawks and doves, declaring: "He's bombing — but he's not bombing, in other words he's riding down the middle because of the domestic political situation."

'Use Power We Have'
The quickest way to win the war, Goldwater said, "is to use the power you have — and we have the power."

Another call for the use of more power came from Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee.

"We have not yet hit with sufficient military strength and power ... to win. We cannot win by this policy of holding back," Stennis said on the ABC radio - television show "Issues and Answers."

NASA to Launch Gemini 9 Shot Tuesday, May 17

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

Gemini 9 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan will be launched into space May 17, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today.

News media have carried this date for several weeks. But NASA makes a practice of not making an official date announcement until about 30 days in advance.

During the three-day flight the astronauts are to link up with an Agena satellite and Cernan is to take a lengthy space walk of about 2½ hours.

The flight will be similar in many respects to that which had been planned for Gemini 8, which had to make an emergency landing last month when a jet thruster stuck open because of a short circuit and sent the spacecraft spinning wildly in space.

Stafford, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Cernan, a Navy lieutenant commander, are to catch the Agena in the third orbit.

During his space walk, Cernan will wear a self-contained backpack which will have small rockets to help him move about at the end of a tether.

Stafford, 35, and Cernan, 31, also will conduct several scientific, engineering and photographic experiments.

Celts Name Russell Coach

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Russell, who led the Boston Celtics to eight National Basketball Association championships in the last nine years, was named today the team's coach, becoming the first Negro to win such a job in any major league sport.

The 32-year old former University of San Francisco All-American will succeed Red Auerbach, who is retiring from the coaching ranks after the NBA playoffs to devote full time to his duties as Celtics general manager.

Radio Society Plans Field Day in June

A Field Day planning meeting of the Overlook Radio Society will be held at Deane's Restaurant, Woodstock, April 20 at 7:30 p. m.

All persons interested in participating in amateur radio's "big event" should plan to attend. Field Day is scheduled this year for the June 25-26 weekend.

Visitors are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Art Classes to Resume In Woodstock, June 6

The Art Students League summer schools will open in Woodstock June 6 and will continue through August 26.

Robert Angelich will teach life and landscape drawing, painting and composition and Arnold Blanch will teach life drawing, painting and composition.

In July, the two instructors will be joined by Bruce Dorfman, Fletcher Martin and Walter Plate who will instruct on the same topics.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits were taken in coppers, airlines and some other recent big gainers as the stock market worked irregularly lower early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Coppers declined following a big advance last week on news of the boost in the export price for copper by Chile. Weekend articles and current comment mentioned that the higher copper prices would benefit competing materials.

The losses of copper stocks were sharp. A number of airlines, which have had big gains, also were slashed.

The market was generally higher in active trading at the opening but weakness showed progressively. Motors, oils and selected rails resisted the downturn.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .507 at 942.70.

Calumet & Hecla and Roan Selection Trust could not be traded because of accumulations of orders.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Another speaker lauding Yerry's 26-year record as a member of the District Council of Carpenters was Charles Johnson Jr., president of the New York State Council of Carpenters.

He told of his close association with Yerry since the latter entered the labor world.

"I'm sure George will do justice to the ranks of labor in his new post," Johnson declared and added that he hoped Yerry would continue to remain a part of labor as far as possible in this new endeavor.

Others on Dais
Other dignitaries on the dais who were introduced by the toastmaster included Finlay C. Allan of Washington, first general vice - president, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America; William Sidell, second vice-president of the Carpenters and Joiners; Arcey Degni, secretary - treasurer of N. Y. State Building and construction Trades Council;

John McMahon, secretary of the New York State Council of Carpenters; Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Sidell, Mrs. Glusker, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Catherwood, Mrs. Newcombe and Mrs. Yerry.

Valentine, in introducing Yerry, referred to him as "one of the smartest labor leaders to come down the pike in a long time."

Other Board Members Present
The guest of honor had words of praise for various union officials who made long trips to be on hand for this honor to him and also noted the presence of several other Workers' Compensation Board members in the audience, including Gertrude Cavanagh, Dominick Pagano, Floyd Smith, Frank Kamanisky and William Myers.

The District Council Carpenters' president pledged to do his best for all labor union in his new post and urged Acting President Zamansky to obtain a one-per cent union industrial fund to protect the interest of carpenters.

Yerry pointed to the present trend of manpower training programs now underway all over the state and said 20,000 jobs in government would be opening next year.

He referred to his appointment by Gov. Rockefeller and said although he cherished the challenge, the idea of leaving the Carpenter's post was "like losing a whole family."

The dinner portion of the program concluded with the presentation of a color television set to Mr. and Mrs. Yerry. Gordon Van Kleeck, chairman of the gift committee, made the presentation.

Members of the committee planning the testimonial included Chairman Zamansky, Emily A. Osterhoudt, brochure chairman; Carlton Atkinson, Joseph Feitzinger, Julius Lamane, Bernard H. Murray and Milton Woodruff. Other members of the gift committee were George Eichler, Thor Knudsen and Frank Pavlick. The dinner arrangements were handled by Joseph Romanowitz, Louis Greenstein, who was referred to by Yerry as helping to set up the District Council, William Adams, Robert Aurnich, William Atkinson, Frank Meddaugh, Anthony Labozetta, Joseph Raymond, George Stutzman, Aage Richardson, Garrett Van Dien, Hector Colosimo, Michael K. Thompson and August Calao Sr.

Council Officials
In addition to President Zamansky, other officials of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters are Carlton Atkinson, vice president and Julius Lamane, secretary - treasurer. Business representatives include Joseph Feitzinger, Bernard H. Murray and Milton Woodruff.

The dinner was preceded by a cocktail hour. Dancing and a floor show concluded the program.

Ulster's Share Of State Aid For Education

Ulster County's share of a distribution of state aid for education being distributed to the school districts of the state as the state's share in support of public schools is $4,033,619.08 for cities and villages and $1,807,873.34 for supervisory districts. State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the total sum is $618,351,598.95.

Payment to the cities and villages and supervisory districts represents the final quarter of state aid due them on the basis of statistics for their 1964-65 school year.

Greene County's share for supervisory districts is $1,173,696.19 and $338,107.96 for cities and villages. Checks will be mailed to Delaware county in the sum of $2,559,819.14 for supervisory districts and $656,701.56 for cities and villages. Dutchess County's share is $2,256,835.99 for supervisory districts and $6,170,149.69 for cities and villages.

Add Boulevard Barn To Incendiary List

A barn fire near the Gallo property, 262 Boulevard Sunday night, was added to the long list, to date, this year, of fires of apparent incendiary origin.

Firemen said the unoccupied barn was heavily involved in flame when they arrived. The blaze, they said, had apparently been set on one side of the structure.

A call at 10:06 p. m. was followed by an alarm from a Boulevard box. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wickes Company responded with Excelsior, Union and Cordis companies on standby call. Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard and Capt. Harry L. Sills were in charge.

Ownership of the barn was expected to be determined today. Several of the other fires under police probe were in vacant houses in the downtown urban renewal area.

Illegal Possession Of Firearms Charged

State Police at New Baltimore arrested two men on separate charges over the weekend as the result of investigations.

Sergeant G. E. Brown reported Kenneth Schleicher, 35, of Pennsylvania, was booked by Trooper J. J. Phelan on charges of illegal possession of a firearm and fireworks.

Trooper Phelan also arrested James A. Ashdown, 25, of 1307 Ash Street, Savannah, Ga., on charges of illegal possession of a .32 caliber revolver.

Both men were ordered held for action of the Greene County grand jury after arraignment before Justice of the Peace George Carl. Catskill.

Recover Boys' Body

SKANEATELES, N. Y. (AP)—The body of 14-year-old Donald Cain of Skaneateles, was recovered today from Skaneateles Lake a week after he and two other teen-agers were reported missing after a canoe trip.

The body of another member of the trio, Betsy Loftus, 13, also of Skaneateles, was found Friday.

Crash With Police Car Costs Driver $25

Accused of driving to the left in a no passing zone on Route 9 near the Dinsmore Memorial Golf Course, Town of Hyde Park, on Saturday after his car was involved in a collision with a state police patrol car Lewis Messenger, 64, of 69 Main Street, Fort Lee, N. J., was fined $25. Messenger was taken before Justice of the Peace Hulet A. Silvernale and pleaded guilty to the violation.

Trooper Kevin McCauliffe, driver of the state police vehicle, was treated at Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, for examination after the mishap.

Three Are Hurt, Driver Is Cited

Three persons were injured in three city traffic mishaps over the weekend and a driver was cited for a violation after another.

Roy Decker, 69, of 30 Liberty Street, injured in a truck-pedestrian mishap on Broadway near City Hall Saturday night, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Kingston Hospital. He suffered head, leg and arm injuries.

Police said the panel truck was driven by Michael Altamari, 69, of 219 Washington Avenue, and Decker was crossing the street at the time. Officers Howard Kelly and Leon Fitzgerald investigated the mishap reported at 8:39 p. m.

In a car-pedestrian mishap at Wurts and West Union Streets, reported at 12:54 p. m. Saturday, police said, Michael Klonski, 8, of 42 West Union Street, suffered a slight bump on the left knee, when he ran into a car driven by J. D. Rattray, 54, of Port Ewen. Officers Kenneth Radel and Duncan Greene investigated.

Clifford R. Hagen Sr., 41, of Perry, Wyoming County, reported an arm injury after two-car mishap at Prince Street and Smith Avenue, at 11 p. m. Saturday. He told police he was forced to the right by an unknown driver and his car struck one owned by William T. Haber, of Liverpool, Onondaga County, which was parked near 31 Prince Street. The latter car, the report said, also went through a fence and hit steps at 27 Prince Street. Officers Otto Short and Patrick Colbert investigated.

Geraldine Goodrich, 36, of RD 5, Box 93, Saugerties, was charged with making an improper turn, after a mishap reported at 8:15 p. m. Sunday on Albany near Tremper Avenue. Police said the other car was driven by George Hoffman, 22, of 179 Murray Street. Officer Joseph Teraca investigated. The woman paid a $5 fine in city court today.

Liberals Meet With Resnick To Hear Views

Liberal Party representatives from Schoharie, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess and Ulster County met with Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick Friday night to discuss their endorsement of him as a candidate for congress.

Resnick discussed his views on the war in Viet Nam, anti-poverty program, Medicare, discrimination and civil rights. A question and answer period followed. A meeting will be held in the near future to determine if Resnick will receive the Liberal Party endorsement.

Julius Alsopf, regional director of the Liberal Party was present at the meeting.

Killed by Car

NORTH AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Marie Chetetta, 37, of North Amityville was struck and killed by a car Sunday night as she was crossing Southern State Parkway.

Witnesses said the victim reached the center island but fell back into the path of traffic. She lived at 30 East St.

Countryman Will Leave Post in City Police Dept.

Ralph Countryman, of 64 Boulevard, who has served as garage attendant and special officer in the local police force, is due to leave the department, it was learned today.

Now in his 19th year with the department, he had served many years as garage attendant and did other duty as a special patrolman. Most recently he has been on duty checking parking meters for overtime parking. It is expected that the Board of Police Commissioners will receive notice of his resignation at its Thursday night meeting. He has accepted employment with the State Highway Department. His resignation will not become effective until the end of his vacation time in May, but he will actually end his service with the department late this week.

Gas Kills Three Men Attempting Boy Scout Rescue

TRENTON, Ga. (AP) — Rescue squad officials see little hope of determining what kind of gas set off a cave explosion which resulted in three deaths and a 10-hour ordeal for three young Boy Scouts.

"Something happened, this we know," said Gene Glaze of Chattanooga, a leader in the rescue effort. "There was an explosion, but I'm at a loss to say what caused it because the only test equipment we had was for carbon monoxide."

Those tests showed a concentration of "pure carbon monoxide" in a 40-foot-deep pit of Howards Cave, where two rescuers died. The third victim, a guide for Explorers Post 79 of Atlanta, was trapped with the three Scouts on a ledge above and behind the fumes.

There was some speculation that the explosion may have been caused by gasoline fumes which had seeped into the cave. Glaze said he understood the cave had been posted several years ago because of "poisonous gas" within.

Rusty Mills, about 18, of Morrow, Ga., and Gernie Gilley, 19, of Trenton, died after rushing into the blanket of noxious gas in a rescue attempt shortly after the explosion about 12:30 p. m. Saturday. Phil Howell, 27, of Atlanta, the guide, apparently was also killed by the fumes. The trapped Scouts, led to safety about midnight after the cool night air dispelled most of the carbon monoxide, were sent home after an overnight hospital stay. They are Chris Shannon, 14; Mike Strickland, 15; and Doug Flemming, 17, all of Atlanta.

Fatally Burned In Mobile Home

A 72-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie woman was burned fatally Saturday afternoon in her mobile home in Little Falls Trailer Park, Route 9, in that township.

Police said Mrs. Gustav Kircher's clothing caught fire as she reportedly attempted to light a cigarette in the living room. Town police reported Mrs. Kircher apparently tried to reach the kitchen sink but was overcome by smoke and collapsed.

The woman's body was found by her husband on returning about 5:20 p. m. from a shopping trip. Authorities said Mr. and Mrs. Kircher had resided in the area for about 12 years. He has worked for a number of years as a short order cook in the area diners, town authorities said.

Rhodesia Fares Well Although Oil Is Diverted

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The British campaign to keep the tankers Manguela and Joanna V from delivering oil to Rhodesia made big headlines, but the rebellious African colony is still getting more oil each month overland than either ship carried, a South African newspaper reported today.

Mail said the flow of oil from Johannesburg's Rand Daily Mail said the flow of oil from South Africa to Rhodesia averages between 140,000 and 160,000 gallons daily — double the amount required under current rationing quotas. The newspaper gave this report:

A survey last week showed that each day at least 45,000 gallons were shipped by trucks and 100,000 gallons by rail. An unidentified oil company official said oil firms favored the cheaper rail routes from Lourenco Marques, in Portuguese Mozambique.
